Introduction

Heads up! Because we're going to introduce you to an Edmonton most people haven't figured out yet.

The world knows this town as the Gateway to the North, the political centre of Canada's upstart megabucks province. They think of hard hats and white collars, oil derricks, pick-up trucks and football supremacy. No picture complete without reference to down-home Klondike revelry or inscrutably cold winters.

And what's wrong with this impression? Well, at best it's incomplete. Of course, one thing about Edmonton's image is accurate. It is a boom town, energetic like no other in the country . . . things are happening here! Great columns of concrete and glass zig-zag through china blue skies. A new building seems to pop up downtown every week. Even the cabdrivers get confused.

And where has all this energy put us? On the road to sophistication, to urban excitement, that's where!

Herewith, The First Edmonton Catalogue: our response to Edmonton's emergence as an Important City. It's a celebration of the most outstanding stuff in town. And it's no sweeping aerial reconnaissance taken from on high. On the contrary, it's the result of a careful search for quality and fun: an on-the-street, block by block report on Edmonton's best and brightest places.

Everywhere we found evidence of sparkling entrepreneurial talent. No longer do we need the "up and coming" view of Edmonton. We're just plain proud of it.

Why not? Our theatre scene is one of the hottest in the country. And you can be sure that a performing arts milieu as lively as ours doesn't happen in a vacuum. It comes hand in hand with intriguing restaurants, galleries and specialty shops, and lots of them at that. Furthermore, we get more hours of sunshine than any other Canadian city . . . which Vancouverite could fail to be impressed by that? Our recreational spots along the river valley are the envy of visitors year-round. Swimming and cycling right outside the door every summer; in winter, it's skiing and outdoor-skating heaven.

To make the city more accessible, we tell you who has the out-and-out best and where they have it. A resource book like no other, The First Edmonton Catalogue offers facts by the dozen that escape most lifelong residents. If you're from elsewhere, you'll get inside-track information that saves time, hassle and disappointment.

The First Edmonton Catalogue is an affectionate, entertaining look at the places and people that make this a city thousands wouldn't dream of leaving.

The establishments selected for this book were carefully researched by the publisher and his staff. Each place was chosen for its singular contribution to city life. However, the reader should note that those selected have contributed to the production costs. Without their support, a project of this scope would not have been feasible. With it, The First Edmonton Catalogue presents an accurate, intimate and, above all, discerning portrait of the city we love.

The Creperie

10220 - 103 STREET
420-6656
HOURS: LUNCH: MONDAY-FRIDAY
11:30 - 2:30
SATURDAY 12:00 NOON - 2:30
DINNER: MONDAY-SATURDAY
5:00-11:30
SUNDAY 5:00-9:00

Wrap a crepe around luncheon with a friend. Wrap one around dinner for two. Roll a crepe around an after-theatre chat. From lunch through late evening, The Creperie has a way with those ultra-thin pancakes like no other. Hans Kuhnel designed his menu with one purpose: to offer the most mouthwatering crepe combinations possible. Yours is a choice of such tempting creations as scallops and mushrooms in a sherry cream sauce; chicken, baby shrimps and fruits in a light curry sauce; or beef tenderloin tips simmered in paprika sauce and topped with sour cream. Crepes also surround delicious vegetable dishes such as cauliflower and asparagus in a Mornay sauce. Dessert can be the most tantalizing of all, offering crepes filled with bananas marinated in rum, topped with chocolate sauce and toasted coconut, or vanilla ice cream topped with a hot puree of raspberry and almonds. Fondues have not been forgotten. The Creperie is as good at dipping as they are at wrapping. The atmosphere is casual elegance. Situated in the restored brick and wood structure of the Boardwalk, the restaurant can offer quiet places, chatty corners and friendly feasting.

The Goulash Pot

10643 - 123 STREET
482-7178
HOURS: TUESDAY-SATURDAY
5:00 - 12 MIDNIGHT
SEPTEMBER '81 - APRIL '82:
WEDNESDAY-SUNDAY
5:00 - 12 MIDNIGHT

Nothing can compare to an evening with good friends and good food in the quiet comfort of a private home. Nothing except an evening at The Goulash Pot. Ildiko and Emery Silvasy have combined years of international restaurant experience with incomparable personal charm. The restaurant seats only 40, creating an atmosphere rather like that of a small gathering of invited guests. Strictly homemade European cuisine is served, the ingredients for which are bought fresh every day. Dinner is always six courses composed of appetizer, soup, salad, at least two choices for a main course, and dessert, coffee or tea. Best of all, you help yourself. Visits are by reservation only and no reservations are accepted after 9:30. So the table is yours for the night. With every meal, the people at The Goulash Pot make new friends, who always come back often for an inimitable evening of laughter, courtesy, comfort and good food.

The Petite Gourmet

EDMONTON
488-9265

HOURS: PLEASE TELEPHONE FOR INFORMATION

How would you like a champagne breakfast in bed? Or a romantic feast of marinated lamb baked in puff pastry, served at your own table . . . but cooked by someone else? Michelle Deland is Edmonton's own Petite Gourmet, a widely appreciated caterer of memorable detail-perfect meals for any occasion. Whether the affair is simple or elaborate, Michelle will create dinners for two, for 20, or for 200 guests, at the venue of your choice. She will arrange for flowers, wine and music as well if you wish. Her recipes are a veritable international goldmine, from which you may select authentic Italian, German, Greek or Indonesian dishes, to name a few. Or, opt for one of Michelle's specialties such as trout or salmon in lime cream. No two menus are ever the same. She has a long list of satisfied clients, including a well known rock group, a Heritage Canada dinner to honour Pierre Berton and the Edmonton chapter of the International Food & Wine Society. A diverse bunch, perhaps, but they all would endorse The Petite Gourmet's promise of comprehensive planning, excellent food and flawless service.

Bruno's Restaurant

8223 - 109 STREET
433-8161
HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY
5:00-12:00 MIDNIGHT

When you come to dine at Bruno's, plan for a leisurely evening of fine food in an intimate atmosphere. With its Tiffany lamps, beamed ceiling, attentive service and outstanding northern Italian and continental cuisine, Bruno's is the perfect place for a romantic dinner for two. For the past 10 years, Bruno and Maria Chicchinni have run this elegant restaurant. Bruno's has won many culinary awards over the years, including membership in the World Famous Restaurants International. Bruno's nephew, chef Roberto Valpreda, prepares all the dishes. For an hors d'ouevres course, try the prosciutto and melon. The escargots in butter and garlic are probably the best in the city. There's an excellent minestrone soup and a green salad with Bruno's own cream dressing with anchovies. Entree favourites include chicken alla cacciatora and the Grand Duke, Bruno's own superb invention of tenderloin steak in madeira and cream sauce with capers. Zabaglione is a dessert must — a rich, fluffy creation of egg yolks, marsala and liqueur served hot in a champagne glass.

Walden's

10245 - 104 STREET
420-6363
HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY
11:30-2:00 & 5:00-10:30
SATURDAY 5:00-10:30
SUNDAY 5:00-10:30

With its French and Continental menu, Walden's caters to a variety of customers from out-of-town businessmen to lovebirds looking for an intimate dinner. Located in the heart of Edmonton's restaurant district, sun rays from a large skylight bathe its beautiful multi-level indoor garden, full of tall, weeping figs, diefenbachias, ferns and fuchsias.

The name and the decor stem from the famous book of the same title by Henry David Thoreau, who extolled nature and simple pleasures. Owner Hans Kuhnel and manager Hans Voegeli believe friendly, efficient service is a must and suggestions for improvements are always welcome. Executive chef Peter Gertsch likes to change menus frequently, including cocktail and wine lists, to accommodate Edmonton's ever changing dining expectations. Every year in January, February and March, an International Food Festival is held and a different country's national dishes are offered for a two week period in addition to the regular menu. Fresh fish weeks feature two different dishes every day at dinner time. The wine list includes a variety of special import wines. Walden's is more than a restaurant, it is a luscious experience. Beans & Barley

482-1027
HOURS: LUNCH: MONDAY-FRIDAY
11:00-2:00
DINNER: MONDAY-SATURDAY 5:00-11:00
10309 - 81 AVENUE
439-0041
HOURS: LUNCH: TUESDAY-FRIDAY
11:00-2:00
DINNER: TUESDAY-SATURDAY 5:00-11:00

Beans & Barley is one of those dining establishments whose patrons claim, "If I owned a restaurant it would be just like this one!" For years, Beans & Barley only had one location, in the west end. Each lunch hour would find professional people and the nutrition conscious racing here in hopes of getting a table. Now, Beans & Barley has two locations, both with plenty of space and inviting decor. The southside location has a lounge while the west end features a fine violinist. More popular than ever, the menu still features hot and hearty soups, year-round vegetables raised in Beans & Barley's own greenhouse, a variety of prepared beans and freshly baked breads. Entrees include baked ribs, breast of chicken, vegetarian casserole, medallions of beef tenderloin, symphony of the sea and more! Beans & Barley's apple puff dessert has risen to stardom, and what other restaurant offers a choice of at least ten juices? The purist leaves Beans & Barley pleased with the nutrition packed dishes, the gourmet knows he's had a memorable meal. The rest of us simply decide to visit again soon.

The Armoury

10310 - 85 AVENUE
432-9319
HOURS: LUNCH: MONDAY-FRIDAY
11:30-2:00
SUNDAY 10:30-2:30
DINNER: MONDAY-SATURDAY
5:00 - 12 MIDNIGHT
SUNDAY 5:00-9:00

The Armoury not only serves fine continental cuisine in a beautiful setting, it preserves an important part of Edmonton's past. From 1911 to 1965, this building was the home of the 19th Alberta Dragoons. The men of the 19th served with distinction in two World Wars and were prominent citizens in the Strathcona district. After disbanding in 1965, the building sat empty. Enter Jack Fuller and the Old Strathcona Foundation. After a complete restoration, including commissioned stained glass works by The Ming Tree, Jack Fuller opened The Armoury in 1980. Chef de cuisine Henry Bachman presents a selection of seafood, steaks, rabbit and lamb along with daily specials. Its southside location with ample parking make it an ideal spot for an elegant lunch. The eggs benedict are a highlight of the luncheon menu. While you're there, have a look at the regimental photos and trophy case which Mr. Fuller has returned to their proper place in the home of the 19th.

Cucci's

9888 JASPER AVENUE
421-1551
HOURS: MONDAY-THURSDAY
11:30 A.M. - 12 MIDNIGHT
FRIDAY, SATURDAY 11:30 A.M. - 1:00 A.M.
SUNDAY 11:30 A.M. - 10:30 P.M.

Cucci's has more charm, more comfort per square inch than you're likely to find anywhere. Here you may come weekdays, weekends, mid-day, and late day to unwind and enjoy the pleasures of friends and good food. The lush plants, airy atmosphere and high-back wicker chairs surround you in relaxing friendliness. To please every taste, the menu offers gourmet delights, traditional favourites and some extra special Cucci-style dishes, all for a reasonable fare. One of the many delights Cucci's offers is an everchanging menu. Every six months the menu is updated with new and exciting items. It's just one of the reasons why they say there's always something happening at Cucci's. In the summer, warm days lend themselves to a light repast on the terrace. Downstairs, the lounge offers exciting live entertainment amid typical Cucci comfort. It's true. There's a lot that can be said about Cucci's. But a meal here is worth a thousand words.

Pagliacci

10201 - 104 STREET
421-4747
HOURS: MONDAY-THURSDAY
11:00 A.M. - 12 MIDNIGHT
FRIDAY-SATURDAY
11:00 A.M. - 2:00 A.M.

You thought you had a good time in the audience. No one told you that backstage at the opera was even more fun! That's exactly the way Pagliacci makes you feel . . . like you've just stepped backstage after a truly superb performance. Opera still tinges the air with excitement. Wooden supports and stagelights are everywhere. A costumed, lifesize puppet-cast peers from rafters, laughing, reaching, urging you to celebrate with them. And celebrate you can with food that would inspire Caruso to sing. Hans Kuhnel's restaurant offers a truly different style of dining. The "tapas" menu, meaning "small snacks" in Spanish, translates into a feast you can create from a selection of 30 items. Temptations include deep fried zucchini or potato skins, Russian salad, honey-barbecued ribs, calamari and zatziki (deep fried squid). Pagliacci's often puts on even more of a party with special events like Mexican Week, Bucket of Linguini Night, and a "second chance" New Year's Eve party. At Pagliacci you don't have to put on an act. Instead you can act up . . . and enjoy good food and a great time. Encore!

Cosmos Greek Restaurant

10312 - 111 STREET
423-5959
HOURS: LUNCH: MONDAY-FRIDAY
11:30-2:30
DINNER: SEVEN DAYS A WEEK
5:00 P.M. - 2:00 A.M.

The exotic sounds of finger zills fill the room. Are you listening to a Bouzouki or a lute? Colourful skirts swirl and filmy veils are everywhere. Is this the land of One Thousand and One Nights? No, this is Cosmos and you have just witnessed some of the finest belly dancing in Edmonton. Like every established restaurant, Cosmos has its regulars . . . customers who come back nightly for the best calamari this side of Knossi or the best moussaka from here to Athens. After you enjoy a huge Greek salad, tuck into a combination plate, the ideal way to introduce your palate to Greek delights . . . souvlaki, spanikopita, beef taki burgers and that heavenly dessert known as baklava. Just when you think you have seen it all, you notice that the Cosmos regulars are beginning to clap. Your waiter has joined the rest of the male staff for a lively line dance across the restaurant floor. There they go, and there you go. Up to break a dinner plate at the dancers' feet in traditional Greek excitement. Now you are hooked. You have become a Cosmos' regular and you too will be going back for a taste of the Mediterranean again and again.

Mirabelle

9929 - 109 STREET
429-3055

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY
11:30 A.M. - 12 MIDNIGHT
SUNDAY: PLEASE CALL TO CONFIRM HOURS.

You might not be bilingual, but after your visit to the Mirabelle Restaurant you will have to agree . . . food, like the language of love, is universal! Established in 1977, the Mirabelle Restaurant has won number one position among its patrons with a discerning taste for French cuisine. The atmosphere is intimate. The setting among palm trees and tropical plants is perfect for a romantic interlude. The waiters are attentive but not overbearing. Feast your eyes on the menu. Will it be Beef Wellington or Rack of Lamb? Each are specialties of the house. In addition, a continental cuisine and special traditional dishes are available. Monday through Friday evening, experience the renowned Creative Cooking specialty. For a reasonably low price, usually $10.95 to $13.95, you can get a four-course gourmet meal in light portions prepared by their best chefs. The recipe for the meal accompanies the diner home, on special request. Before or after dinner, visit the cozy cocktail lounge, with its homey, traditional decor. Credit: Visa. MasterCard. American Express.

Ashoka Curry House

9507 - 111 AVENUE
471-1119

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 5:00-10:30
FRIDAY & SATURDAY 'TIL 11:00

The Punjabi cuisine of northern India is one of exotic spices, curries and herbs balanced with cooling yogurts. At Gurcharan Sarna's Ashoka Curry House you will find only excellent Indian food, in amazing variety. The tantalizing appetizers here are unique to Edmonton. The pakora, vegetables deep fried in batter with a sweet tamarind chutney, is a particular favourite, as is the cheese pakora from Ashoka's homemade soft cheese. Selecting from the nearly two dozen entrees may prove more difficult. Main courses include a full range of curried and biryani dishes of beef, lamb, chicken and shrimp, a fine selection of vegetarian meals including bharta and muttar panar, and Tandoori chicken. The house specialty is whole roast Cornish game hen stuffed with vegetables, curries, spices and yogurt. With all of these you have the choice of mild, medium or hot spices depending on how daring you are. Finally, you may soothe yourself with desserts of gulab jamen, homemade mango kulfee, or exotic fruit juices.

Bul-Go-Gi House

8813 - 92 STREET
466-2330
HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY
11:30 A.M. - 10:00
SATURDAY AND HOLIDAYS
12:00 NOON - 10:00

If you had walked into the Bul-Go-Gi House five years ago, you would have found yourself in a little cafe run by Kyu Ung Chong. Sitting down in one of four booths you could then have had a taste of the first Korean food to be served in Edmonton. The restaurant has since expanded into two adjoining shops and now seats 110 people, and the food is as good as ever. From the homemade Kim Chee and pickled radish which starts every meal, to the spiced meat and vegetable Bul Go Gi cooked at your table, this is authentic Korean food — one of the most interesting, and spicy, Asian cuisines. If you want to make a real evening of it, get ten people together and book for a banquet. Give Mr. Chong a week's notice and you'll be served a six course meal — if you can get twenty or more to come out you'll have fifteen dishes. You'll get "celebration dishes", food served on holidays in Korea, not offered on the regular menu. And don't be surprised by the sticks of gum at the end of the meal — that, to, is a traditional touch, or at least since American G.I.'s came through with all those packs of Juicy Fruit.

Red Ox Inn

9420 - 91 STREET
465-5727

HOURS: LUNCH: TUESDAY-FRIDAY
11:30-2:00
DINNER: TUESDAY-THURSDAY 5:00-9:00
FRIDAY-SATURDAY 5:00-10:00

Tucked among a row of shops in a largely residential district is a popular spot for satisfying food and drink. Unpretentious but delightful, the Red Ox Inn is known for its delicious daily specials along with a small but varied menu and a comprehensive wine list. The seafood and vegetarian dishes are among the favourites. A hearty Boston clam chowder is served every Tuesday and Friday. The seafood supper is usually grilled haddock or swordsfish in a white sauce with scallops. The vegetarian diner will be pleased with a vegetable melange in pastry, topped with a wine sauce. From the dessert menu, the Red Ox Inn tries to keep up with the demand for their cheesecake. Special group banquets featuring a choice of international cuisines can be arranged. The Red Ox Inn maintains a tradition of holding art shows every month, to further the exposure of notable Edmonton artists.

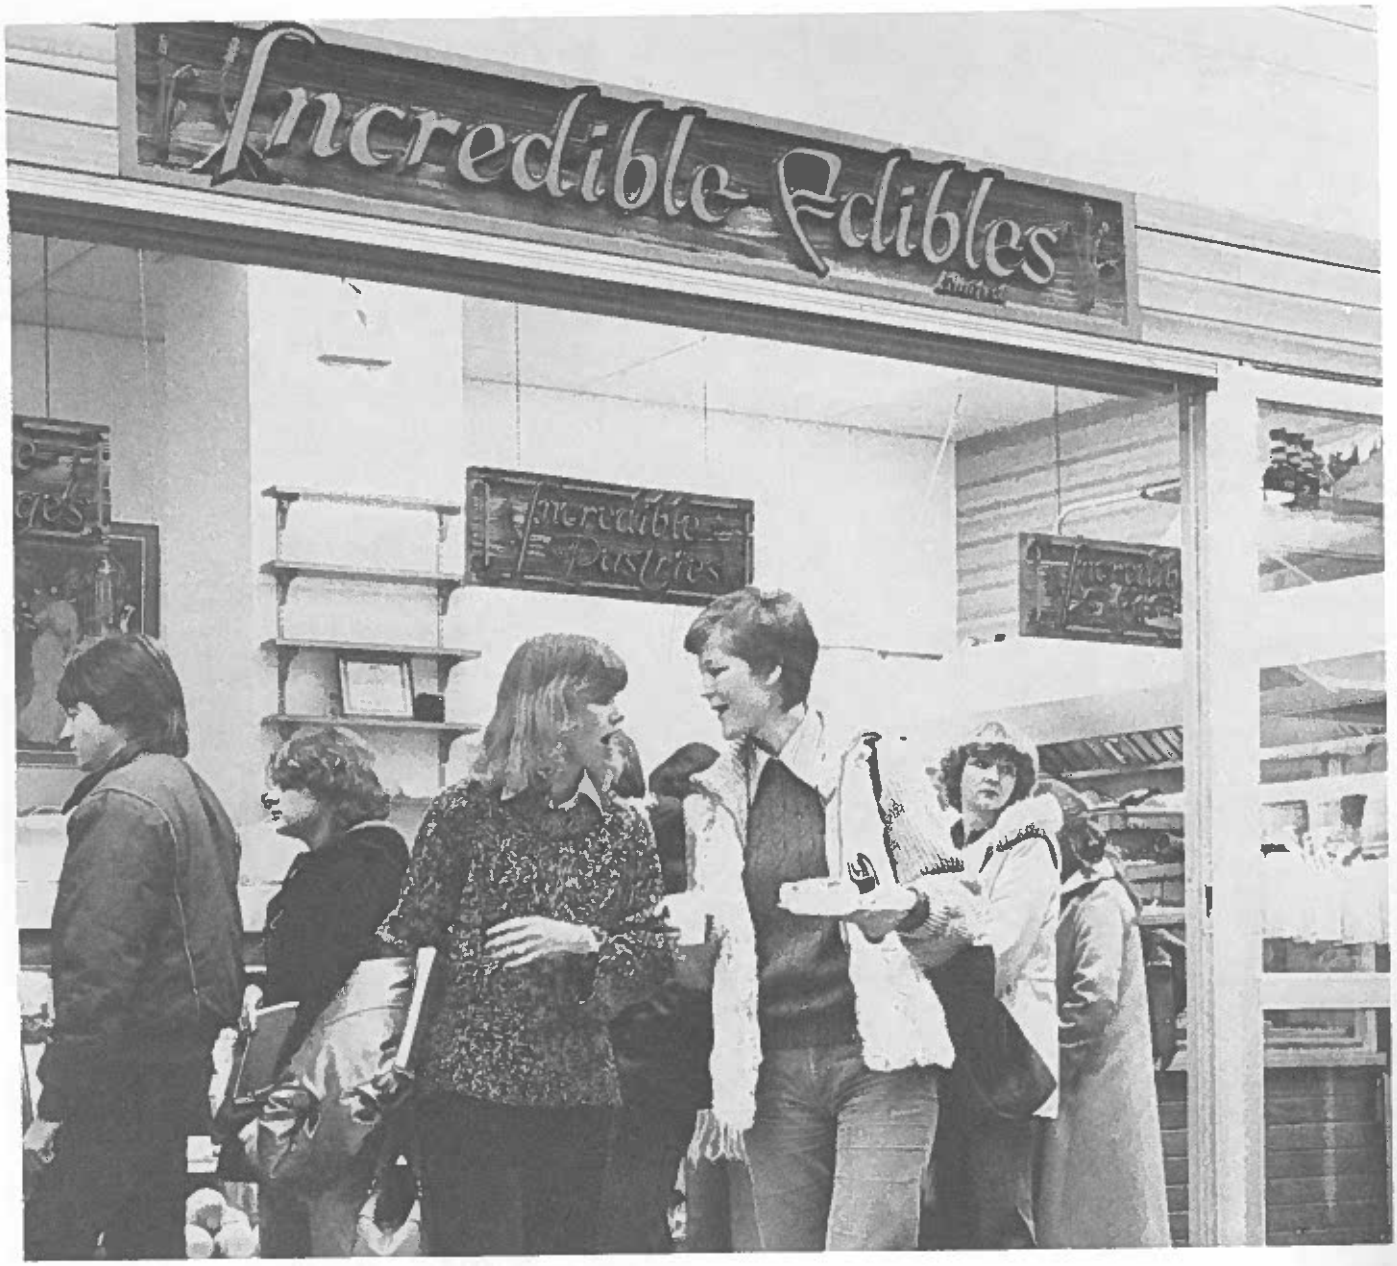
C.J.'s Good Eats

10012 JASPER AVENUE
429-0123
HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 7:30-4:00
SATURDAY JUNE 1 - AUGUST 31 ONLY
11:00-4:00

A home away from home — that's the aim of C.J.'s Good Eats. The name is formed by the initials of the two owners, Candy Dickens and Judy Sims who make everything you eat. The food and the decor combine to make you feel as though you're in your own kitchen, without all the work of course. C.J.'s specializes in a wide assortment of salads, soups and open-faced sandwiches. The house specialty is chicken salad with almonds and pineapple. Old standbys like egg and tuna salads are perked by Edam cheese and sliced tomatoes. In addition to the regular fare there are sandwiches ranging from cream cheese and cucumber to peanut butter and banana. The home-made soups change every day except for Friday's special Boston clam chowder. For dessert there are homebaked goodies. Pop is served in bottles rather than dispensed to add to the homey feeling. The decor consists of furniture carefully selected at auctions and junk stores, unusual cups and saucers that don't match, and salt and pepper shakers which are conversational pieces. Both Candy and Judy work in the restaurant to add to the personal touch, and can be found any day in the annex of the Robert Armstrong Building — the entrance is off the alley under the canopy.



Incredible Edibles

HUB MALL, 9110 - 112 STREET
432-7793
HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY
7:00- 8:00
SUNDAY BRUNCH 12 :00 NOON - 8:00

Incredible Edibles defies categories. If you said it's a kiosk-style deli which sells fast food, you'd be right. If you called it a restaurant-caterer with a large selection of wonderful gourmet vegetarian seafood and meat dishes, you'd also be right. Incredible Edibles makes homemade foods of the highest quality ingredients, freshness and naturalness served across the counter. Sit down at a bar stool or stroll down the colourful HUB Mall to one of the many lounges to enjoy your meal or have your own picnic outside. In the morning you might want fresh squeezed fruit juice and nectars, European coffees and plump muffins or croissants with preserves. At lunch and dinner there are daily soups, chowders, salads, a variety of specials and of course, their famous quiches featuring snow crab and artichokes in dry sherry and edam cheese. Design your own sandwich from the deli's meat and cheese options. (Try the homemade mustard!) Pastries and desserts run the gamut . . . European tortes and cheesecakes, bars and squares, loaves and cakes. All edibly incredible.

Hello Deli

10725 - 124 STREET
454-8527
HOURS: MONDAY-THURSDAY
11:00-11:00
FRIDAY & SATURDAY 11:00-2:00 A.M.
SUNDAY & HOLIDAYS 11:00-8:00

CLOSED SUNDAY & HOLIDAYS DURING SUMMER MONTHS

At a time when neighborhood delis are springing up on every corner, Hello Deli outshines them all. Hello Deli, appeals to the sense of taste as well as the pocket book! Each morsel of food is prepared fresh daily. Sandwiches are fixed while you watch and you can eat them in an inviting atmosphere along with your favourite beer or wine, or take them out. How long has it been since you enjoyed great corn beef, pastrami, Montreal smoked meats, fresh smoked Golden Eye, Winnipeg cream cheese or fresh chopped liver? The house specialties include tempting homemade goodies like cheese cake, chocolate cheese cake and blintzes! Oh yes, just this once, leave your calorie counter behind, these desserts are worth it. Hello Deli has become increasingly popular with the after-theatre crowd and their catering service is a hit everywhere!

Happy Garden

6525 - 111 STREET
435-7622
HOURS:
MONDAY-SATURDAY
4:00-11:00

China is a vast country with a mixture of cultures and cooking traditions. From the north comes the distinctive taste of Mandarin food with its rich sauces and hot Szechuan peppers. The Happy Garden is the best Edmonton outpost for northern Chinese cuisine. Here, Mr. Siu To makes a superb hot & sour soup, green onion cakes and moksui pork with thin cakes. A splendid Peking duck is also served, which Mr. To will carve right at your table. For the seafood palate, choose live lobster, crab and shellfish from their saltwater tank. The Happy Garden is a truly unusual experience in Chinese dining.

Vi's For Lunch

10230 - 97 STREET
424-9872
HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 7:00-5:00
SATURDAY 10:00-4:00

Weekday lunches have no right to be this good! Just down from up-town, Vivienne Horne serves up fresh, healthy food in good sized, reasonably priced portions to lunch munchers of all types. The small but irresistable menu offers sandwiches on a variety of breads, homemade soup, quiche, a hot casserole of the day, fresh fruit and vegetable salads, homemade muffins, carrot cake and cheese cake. Take-out is available on all items. In warm weather, patrons can enjoy the outdoor seating area. Vi's For Lunch is small, but customers always seem more than willing to share tables. That makes for a special friendliness. But there is an unfortunate side effect. With more people eating at Vi's, the brown bag is rapidly becoming an endangered species. By the way, Vi's isn't really just for lunch. Look for other treats to eat at Vi's Across The Street . . . across the street.

Edmonton Symphony Orchestra

11712 - 87 AVENUE
439-2091
HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 9:00-5:00

When a few Edmonton musicians gathered to play symphonic music in 1920, who would have guessed it would lead to the symphony we have today? Supported by 8,000 subscribers and 85,000 concert-goers, the Edmonton Symphony gives more than 60 concerts a year in Edmonton and neighbouring communities. The ESO offers a variety of concerts — the Master Series, Mostly Mozart, Great Composers, Family Fun Concerts and the Pops Concerts. Their soloists include Ruggiero Ricci, James Buswell and Pierre Fournier giving classic performances of the concert repertoire. The symphony also has worked with some unusual soloists, and the live recording of their concert with rock group Procul Harum made them the only gold disc symphony in Canada. The ESO has a new music director and principal conductor in Uri Mayer, who comes to us from the Montreal Symphony Orchestra. The young, dynamic conductor will certainly lead the Symphony to still greater accomplishments. Credit: Visa. MasterCard. American Express.

Edmonton Opera Association

SUITE 503, 10102 - 101 STREET
422-7200
HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 9:00-4:30

Over the past twenty years, Edmonton has fallen in love with opera. Now the leading opera company in the west, the Edmonton Opera Association entertains the largest per capita subscription audience in the country. Under the artistic direction of Irving Guttman, the EOA has presented opera's greatest names, including Joan Sutherland, Beverly Sills, Jose Carreras and Maureen Forrester. They are especially proud to have helped launch the careers of two Edmontonians, Lois McDonnal and Ermanno Mauro. EOA productions have twice won Canada Music Council Awards, and a CBC-sponsored presentation of Manon marked the first national telecast of an opera performance west of Ottawa. The four or five productions per season range from such classics as Aida, Tosca and The Marriage of Figaro, to the innovative upcoming Tudor Trilogy of Donizetti, to the light-hearted diversion of The Mikado and South Pacific.

The Richard Eaton Singers

c/o ED BRIDGES,
2000 CAPITAL SQUARE
10065 JASPER AVENUE
426-4133

HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 9:00-5:00

REHEARSALS HELD IN 1 - 29 FINE ARTS BUILDING, UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA

The Richard Eaton Singers have a long and distinguished career in our city. Originally formed in 1951 as the University Singers by Prof. Richard Eaton, it has grown over the years from the original group of 30 to as many as 180 singers. After Prof. Eaton's death in 1968 the choir was renamed in memory of its founder. Since then it has been lead by Sandra Munn and, from 1973, by Larry Cook. Through its own presentation of masterworks for choir and orchestra; its collaboration with the Edmonton Symphony Orchestra; and work with CBC radio and television, the Singers have become widely recognized on the Edmonton musical scene. The highlight of 1981 was a tour of England as part of a 2-year exchange project with the Chandos Choir of Solihull, England. A 25-voice Chamber Choir within the larger group was formed in 1980 to broaden the scope of the chorus.

The University of Alberta String Quartet

P.O. BOX 7801, STATION A
EDMONTON
466-3722

"Glorious, vivid playing", "superb musicianship", "refreshingly spontaneous" — such praise from across Canada is for our own University of Alberta String Quartet. Norman Nelson, Lawrence Fisher, Michael Bowie and Claude Kenneson are all professors of music at the university and bring long and distinguished musical careers to this quartet. Norman Nelson and Michael Bowie are founding members of the Academy of St. Martin-in-the-Fields. Lawrence Fisher has performed and taught for 35 years in the U.S. and Canada. Claude Kenneson has appeared as a cellist and conductor in North America, Britain and Europe. As a quartet, they perform across Canada and England, and have appeared on the BBC and CBC. Their repertoire encompasses all periods of the string quartet literature including the complete quartets of Bela Bartok and Benjamin Britten.

Alberta College Music Centre

10041 - 101 STREET
428-1851

HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 8:30-4:00

The Alberta College Music Centre has become the largest music facility in Edmonton outside the university. It offers private instruction in all areas of voice, keyboard, guitar and orchestral instruments, as well as group lessons in theory, harmony and music history. The staff consists of 50 professional, performing musicians from North America and Europe. In addition, renowned visiting artists give master classes throughout the year. The centre offers two special programs unique to Edmonton. The Early Childhood Program teaches basic music principles to four- to seven-year-olds. The High School Performing Arts program offers serious students of music a combination of high school academic studies and intensive work in music. The Alberta College Music Centre also sponsors or supports several professional performance groups, including the Anore String Quartet, the Edmonton Chamber Players Orchestra and the Edmonton Wind Sinfonia.

The Citadel Theatre

9828 - 101A AVENUE
ADMINISTRATION: 426-4811
HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 9:00-5:00

BOX OFFICE: 425-1820
HOURS: SEVEN DAYS A WEEK

In its award-winning theatre complex, completed in 1976, the Citadel has established itself as one of the most successful and diversified theatres in North America. More than a quarter million people a year attend Citadel productions. The focal point is its main stage season in the Shoctor Theatre, a 675-seat auditorium with rich redwood panelling and excellent acoustics. The intimate and versatile Rice Theatre presents its own season of plays. Zeidler Hall is used year-round for films, lectures and recitals and is also the stage for the Citadel's children's theatre. The Citadel has gained much praise for its Citadel on Wheels/ Wings program which tours Alberta, the Yukon and the Northwest Territories with a program of plays for students from kindergarten to grade 12. All theatre facilities, including the spacious foyers equipped with bar service, can be rented through the Citadel's booking manager for conventions, lectures, receptions and exhibits.

Northern Light Theatre

10189 - 99 STREET
426-4292

Northern Light may be the only theatre company in North America that performs in a red and white tent on the side of a ski hill. The company began in 1975 as a lunchtime theatre with performances in the Art Gallery. It has since expanded to present full length original, classic and contemporary works. It was during the 75th Anniversary celebrations that Northern Light, as part of Summerfest, acquired their tent on Connors Hill behind the Muttart Conservatory. The group now has a regular summer season of four plays. It also hopes to find permanent winter quarters to expand its performing season. Northern Light presents many new works by Canadian authors and, in fact, have associate playwrights connected with the company. The group is also on the lookout for local talent. Frank Moher is their literary manager and will work with playwrights to put a script through a workshop presentation by the cast.

3 - 146 FINE ARTS CENTRE
UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA
432-2495
HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 8:30-4:30
THEATRE: CORBETT HALL
112 STREET AND 82 AVENUE

Studio Theatre first opened its doors in 1949 in a Quonset hut on the University campus, making it the oldest operating public theatre in the city. It has been in its present location since 1958 in Corbett Hall, an intimate setting in one of the old brick University buildings. The theatre features the work of the students in the professional training program of the Department of Drama. This gives Edmonton theatre-goers a preview of some of Canada's leading young actors, directors and designers as they prepare for professional careers. You'll see everything from Shakespeare to Pinter in the six show season and all at a very modest ticket price. The first three productions of the year use the graduating acting class as the core company. The fourth show has become a special attraction, often as a co-production with one of Edmonton's professional theatre companies, for which a distinguished director and performers are brought in. The remaining two shows display the talents of the two graduating Masters students in directing.

Workshop West Playwrights' Theatre

9510 - 105 AVENUE
424-2422
HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 10:00-5:30
SATURDAY 1:00-3:00

By presenting Canadian plays and nurturing new Canadian playwrights, Workshop West endeavours to create theatre that says something relevant to their audience. This professional company has done much to prove Canadians appreciate Canadian theatre. Their 1979 production of David French's Of the Fields Lately won the Edmonton media reviewers' First Night award for Best Production. Their recent production, Creeps, in conjunction with Catalyst Theatre, played to capacity audiences. Workshop West offers a free play reading service, workshops on script development and a playwriting circle. They are also involved in the New Nature Experience Project, a unique collaboration between theatre artists, naturalists and educators who present plays to young audiences at the John Janzen Nature Centre.

Walterdale Playhouse

10322 - 83 AVENUE
439-2845

Historical Firehall No. 6 in Edmonton houses Walterdale Theatre Associates, the City's longest running amateur theatre group. With an enthusiastic core of drama buffs, Walterdale has, since the early 60s. served as a platform for discovering and developing talent both on stage and behind the scenes. Many of its members have established themselves in Edmonton's bustling professional entertainment field, and one is fast earning a reputation as a promising playwright. Intimate theatre has remained a Walterdale highlight since its first rustic one-room school setting through to its attractive 150 seat auditorium. The playhouse hosts a season of six productions plus a Christmas Children's Show. A summer melodrama, introduced in 1965, has become a popular tradition during the City's July Klondike Days.

Alberta Ballet Company

9722 - 102 STREET
423-1332

HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 9:00-5:00

The Alberta Ballet Company is a classically based professional group of 14 dancers. However, Swan Lake isn't all this talented young company can handle. While their repertoire includes such classics as Tchaikovsky's Nutcracker and Stravinsky's Firebird, they have also performed many original works, including commissioned pieces by our own Malcolm Forsyth and Tommy Banks. Founded in 1966 by Ruth Carse as part of the Alberta Ballet School, the company went on to become an independent professional group with a long list of accomplishments. In 1976 Brydon Paige became artistic director. As principal dancer, ballet master and choreographer for Les Grandes Balletts Canadiens, Mr. Paige brought an impressive dancing expertise to Edmonton. The company gave a command performance for Queen Elizabeth at the Commonwealth Games, and in 1978 they were the only Canadian company invited to perform at the International Arts Festival in Cyprus.

Ukrainian Shumka Dancers

BOX 342
EDMONTON, ALBERTA
433-3387

"Shumka" means "whirlwind" in Ukrainian, and if you've ever seen the Shumka Dancers perform you'll understand the comparison. The purpose of the non-profit group is to promote the preservation and development of Ukrainian culture in Canada through the art of Ukrainian dance. Their repertoire is based on the folk songs of the Ukraine countryside, which the company adapts through the intricate rhythmic patterns of their choreography to present the colour and style of this compelling music. Since their founding in 1959 the Shumka Dancers have become an international performance group. During the summers of '76 and '77 they performed at the mountain resort of Hakone in Japan. In '78 they gave a command performance for Queen Elizabeth, and recently performed for President Reagan during his visit to Canada. The company gives regular concerts in Edmonton and is available on a limited basis for a 15-minute dance program at conventions and other gatherings.

Brian Webb Dance Company

10045 - 156 STREET
483-4411

The Brian Webb Dance Company is a young, exciting modern dance group. Led by Brian Webb, artistic director and chief choreographer, the company has been in residence at Grant MacEwan College since 1979. The purpose of the group members is twofold: they perform and teach modern dance. Formal performances are given in Edmonton, and by engagement throughout the province. It is one of the few groups in Canada who work with original music composition and live music whenever possible. The educational program includes lectures, master classes and mini-concerts in modern dance and master classes in jazz techniques. Workshops are held in which guest choreographers work with the company. Dancers can become involved in workshops where Brian Webb choreographs compositions.

Movement Arts Centre

10048 - 101A AVENUE
424-9982

The Movement Arts Centre is Edmonton's answer to the problem of finding studio space. Sponsored by the non-profit Awareness Through Movement Association, the Centre is a centrally located, spacious studio with telephone and answering service. Thus a teacher or group can have studio time for classes, workshops or rehearsals for only the times needed, and at affordable rates. The Centre presently includes Jacqueline Ogg's Awareness Through Movement (Feldenkrais Method), Deborah Skelton and Gloria Perks for the Academy of Corporal Mime, Gayle Schreiber for jazz, Salvador Rosales' "Xochipilli" Mexican Folkorico Company, "Kompany!" performing dance group, Hatha Yoga (Iyengar), and Carla Calvert-Roberts modern dance. The Centre is pleased to hear from those interested in taking classes, renting space or joining the organization.

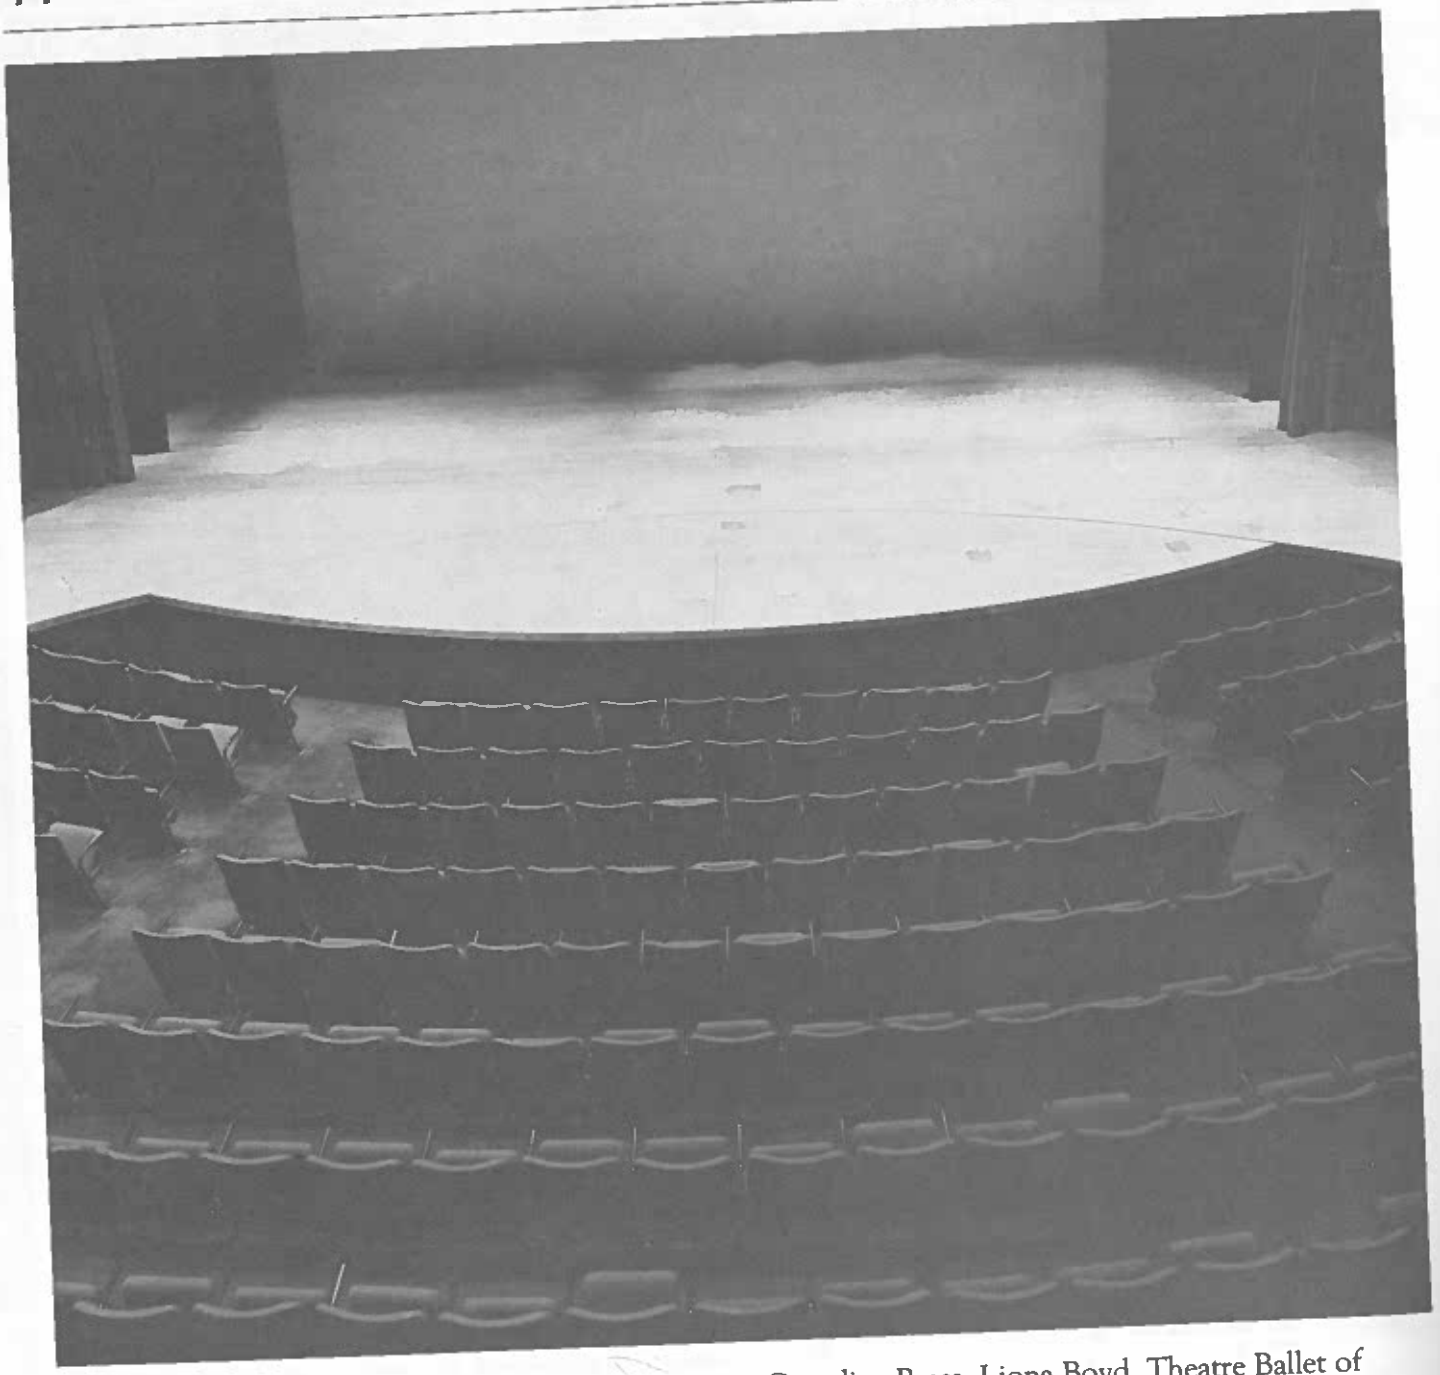
National Film Theatre — Edmonton

ZEIDLER HALL AT THE CITADEL THEATRE
426-4811, EXT. 65
HOURS: EVENING SHOWINGS WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, FRIDAY, SUNDAY

When a city reaches a certain size, a segment of the community becomes big enough to require its own cinema. These are the true film buffs, serious students of cinema as an art form, and people for whom run-of-the-mill showings at chain theatres aren't enough. Hence the National Film Theatre at the Citadel provides a celluloid alternative to any current crop of movies. They offer repertory programs, retrospectives on the cinematic artists of today and yesterday, special screenings with the filmmakers in attendance, festivals and symposia. Such luminaries as Robert Altman have been known to attend NFT showings, and even when eminent motion picture personalities aren't in town, it's a sure bet that their work is accessible to people who view movies as more than time-passing entertainment. The films you'll see at NFT showings are the very best and most interesting that have been produced during the short-but-eventful history of motion pictures — classics from a long-vanished Hollywood, innovative European works, new films by directors who take the medium to new heights.



SUB Theatre

STUDENTS' UNION BUILDING
UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA
432-4764

The Students' Union Theatre leads many different lives as an Edmonton entertainment spot. It's a repertoire film house showing around 100 foreign and classic films a year. It's also a stage for the performing arts, presenting concerts by the Canadian Brass, Liona Boyd, Theatre Ballet of Canada, Moe Koffman and Les Ballets Jazz. It has also been a theatre stage such as when it presented the first performance in Alberta of Linda Griffiths' Maggie and Pierre, and shows by Mime Omnibus and the Chinese Magic Circus of Taiwan. Finally, it's a rental house used by western Canadian promoters and community groups such as the Edmonton Film Society and the Edmonton Chamber Music Society. The only way to keep track of all that's going on at SUB Theatre is to pick up a copy of their schedule, found all around the university, or phone anytime for a listing of the week's events.

Second City Revue

DOWNSTAIRS, 9974 JASPER AVENUE
425-0303
HOURS: NIGHTLY SHOWS
MONDAY-SATURDAY
DOORS OPEN AT 5:30

You have to be careful. Here, a snicker can escalate to a giggle, right through to a sputter and on to a full scale guffaw before you know it. And once that laughter is loose, it affects everyone. Six nights a week, laughter emanates from one of Edmonton's finer dinner theatres, as Second City un-carefully unleashes the funny side of things.

This is improvisational comedy, done only as Second City, North America's most famous comedy theatre, can. Over the past 20 years, Second City Revue has produced 14 successful revues, a widely acclaimed TV series and a veritable clutch of comedians including Gilda Radner, Dan Ackroyd and David Steinberg. Here, at Lucifer's, five cast members carry on (and we do mean "carry on") the traditional witty and irreverent Second City philosophy. Admission price includes dinner and the show. Full bar service is also available. After a hearty repast, the house lights dim, and the stage is set for laughs. No subject is exempt. With only a few props at their disposal the cast members use their vast talents to poke fun at absolutely everything.

Princess Repertory Theatre

10337 WHYTE AVENUE
433-5785
HOURS: 24 HOUR PROGRAM INFORMATION

Where can you see Jane Eyre, La Dolce Vita and Attack of the Killer Tomatoes all in one week? Only at the Princess. The Princess Repertory Theatre mounts two showings a night from an incredible variety of films — classic, foreign, art, horror and comedy. As a result of their innovative and imaginative programming, they are one of the most successful theatres of their kind in North America. The Princess is run as a community service by the Old Strathcona Foundation. The theatre, a registered historic site, was built in 1914 and was the first marble front building constructed in western Canada. Its interior, faithfully restored by the Society, is among the most charming in Edmonton. The theatre publishes monthly schedules available throughout the city. If you're a Princess member, you receive discounts on special orders of movie posters and a dollar off the admission price.

SU Records/ Music/ Box Office

HUB MALL: 9200 - 112 STREET
EDMONTON, ALBERTA T6G 2C5
432-5024
HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 9:30-5:30
THURSDAY 'TIL 9:00
9008 - 112 STREET
432-5073, 432-5145

These three stores in HUB Mall form one of several successful Students' Union operations. With its plexiglass pyramid roof raised above the mall level, the record store is hard to miss. Florence Roberts, who manages all three shops, is usually to be found here keeping track of the business. Taras Ostashewsky is the record buyer, an enviable position. A wholly independent store, SU Records can order an album by any record company in North America and Europe. So you will find here a selection more extensive and varied in classical, popular, jazz and blues than any other record store. If something isn't there, SU will do everything possible to obtain a copy. Down the mall is the Music Store and Box Office. Gordon Marr has a fine selection of sheet music; the house specialties being opera and symphony scores, found nowhere else in the city, stocked primarily for the Department of Music. The Box Office handles ticket sales for the Symphony, Opera, SU Theatre and BASS tickets.

Fantasia Classical Records

FIRST FLOOR STANDARD LIFE CENTRE
10405 JASPER AVENUE
425-1655

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY9:30-5:30
THURSDAY 'TIL 9:00

Classical music can play your emotions like an instrument. And Fantasia can let you play all the classics. Owner Francesco Giulini and assistant manager Brian Chomica noted the need for a special place for lovers of the classics so they created the only place in town devoted to the visions of the masters. Because the store carries only classical records and tapes, the selection is huge. So, however it's done, whomever by, chances are you'll find your favourite here. The shop's atmosphere makes you want to take your time and browse to your ear's content. And the thoroughly knowledgeable staff is always ready to help. If it's not in the store, they can order it for you. If you can't get to the store, mail order is available. Further information on the music you love is also offered, so get on the mailing list for news on the latest releases. Other special offerings include composer posters, a monthly draw for a $50 gift certificate, and, when opportunity allows, autograph sessions with visiting artists.

Yamaha — Pianos - Organs

14616 - 111 AVENUE
451-3265

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 9:00-6:00
THURSDAY & FRIDAY 'TIL 9:00

People cannot live without music, and the very best music you make yourself. Through its world-famous music courses, the Yamaha company has made such musical ability accessible to students all over the globe. In our city, the company's program for four-year-olds has already ensured a coming generation of musically-capable Edmontonians. Also famous — and justly so — is Yamaha's extensive range of pianos and organs, superbly designed and highly responsive instruments that set the standard for the industry and are as pleasing to the eye as they are to the ear. Pianos are available in small apartment-sized uprights, giant, resonant nine-foot concert grands and all the sizes in between, in finishes to match any decor. Yamaha organs span a range from the small single-keyboard model with automatic features, to a double-keyboard with a full 61-note range. Four Yamaha-trained piano technicians in the city provide prompt and expert attention to the tuning and servicing needs of all instruments that bear their name.

Oliver Music

10704 - 124 STREET
451-1384
HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 9:00-5:30

The only store in Edmonton devoted exclusively to printed music, Oliver Music has every form of composition from a Gregorian chant to New Wave. Practically next door to three major organ and piano dealers in the new 124 Street location, Oliver's understandably has an extensive keyboard section. The brass, woodwind, guitar and vocal sections are also particularly good. Teachers and students will find this the best store for instruction books and exam requirement pieces. School music teachers will want to look at their children's section for song books and teaching aids. For the complete musician, Oliver Music has T-shirts, book bags, pins, bumper stickers and stationery to proclaim your musical proclivities.

National Music and Stereo Sound Shop

14212 STONY PLAIN ROAD
HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 9:00-5:30
THURSDAY & FRIDAY 'TIL 9:00

After a long day of work, there is nothing as relaxing as your favourite music . . . especially if it sounds the way it should sound. George and John Nikel have been operating the National Music and Stereo Sound Shop since 1965. Before that, they spent ten years in the music business in Manitoba. When they arrived in Edmonton in 1963, they opened the city's first audio store, and two years later bought an instrument and sheet music store established in 1930. Today their store has a section each for music makers and music listeners. The finest audio equipment can be found here. A glance at some of the brand names available at National shows that claim to be no idle boast. These include McIntosh, Bang & Olufsen, Technics, Boston, NAD and Braun. Also, an excellent selection of instruments, TVs and video equipment. National Music and Stereo Sound Shop offers consultations on planning your own home stereo system, an in-house service department, an equipment maintenance program, and free consumer clinics several times a year, which give you a chance to have your equipment checked and diagnosed. The National is located a little bit away from the main drag, but not too far to go for a Rolls Royce selection of sound systems.

Keen Kraft Music

10204 - 107 AVENUE
423-4448

HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 9:30-6:00
SATURDAY 9:30-5:30

Music can show you a universe of emotions through your ears. And here they can show you how to make the most of your music. The store offers a world of musical instruments and equipment including the major names in drums, keyboards, guitars, books, public address systems, multi-track recording equipment and ampifiers. What's more, the staff can show you exactly what to look for, listen for, and what's best. The person answering your questions may be involved in a recording studio, a public address company or a professional band . . . your questions happily answered from experience. Other store involvements include: in-store clinics throughout the year with such people as Herb Ellis, Art Blakey and Peter Magadini; and a continued association with the Southside Folk Club, Yardbird Productions and the Edmonton Jazz Society. In conjunction with these latter affiliations, Keen Kraft sponsors some 35 to 40 shows a year featuring the likes of Paul Hann, Jesse Winchester, Chieftains, Tanna Hill Weavers, Leo Kottke and Sonny Terry. To make music easy, the store offers mail order, credit plans, and a very flexible trade-in policy. Electronic guitar repairs are also offered.

The Edmonton Art Gallery

2 SIR WINSTON CHURCHILL SQUARE
EDMONTON, ALBERTA T5J 2C1

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 10:15-5:00
THURSDAY & FRIDAY 'TIL 10:00
SUNDAYS & HOLIDAYS 1:15-5:00

The Edmonton Art Gallery began its life in 1924 as the Edmonton Museum of Art, housed in the old Edmonton Public Library on 100 Avenue off 100 Street. As its collection grew, the museum changed addresses five more times before it was renamed the Edmonton Art Gallery in 1956. Eight years later, the city donated a downtown site and in April 1969 the Gallery opened its doors on Sir Winston Churchill Square. It is a non-profit organization seeking to serve those with just a passing interest in art as well as avid collectors. It charges no admission, relying on companies, individuals and government grants. The Gallery tends an excellent permanent collection, offers regular exhibitions of all sorts, organizes tours for the public and school children, and operates a shop which loans individual art pieces and a variety of books and sells contemporary crafts. Inquire about courses for children, teens and adults in drawing, painting, sculpture, pottery and art appreciation. Walk downstairs to the Gallery's theatre to see a film about your favourite artist or a presentation accompanying an exhibition upstairs. Gallery members are entitled to discounts on many services. This is clearly one of those something-is-always-going-on places, eager to serve and stimulate you.

Lefebvre Galleries

10238 - 123 STREET
488-1251
HOURS: TUESDAY-SATURDAY 10:00-5:00
THURSDAY 'TIL 9:00

This gallery is named for Dr. Charles Lefebvre who owned the house where the business began in 1970. These days, you'll find it in a beautifully restored pre-1920 house located in the heart of Edmonton's gallery area. Director John Arends and his assistant manager Josephine Courtney want you to know that they aren't a stuffy lot. Whatever your erudition or taste, you are welcome to visit any time to browse. The gallery sells and shows original art work only — paintings, etchings, sculpture, and a limited number of ceramics. Upstairs, a room is set aside for original graphic works. Specialized museum-quality framing is available and one-man or group shows take place regularly throughout the year. Ask to be put on a mailing list for exhibitions.

Hett Gallery

12422 STONY PLAIN ROAD
482-5691
HOURS: TUESDAY-SATURDAY 10:00-5:30
EVENINGS BY APPOINTMENT

Many art lovers in Edmonton find their second home at the Hett Gallery. Owner and director Hazel Hett has two main aims. She wants to provide the public with a comfortable setting in which to encounter and purchase fine examples of contemporary art. She also wants her gallery to be a cultural resource for people to learn about all aspects of the contemporary art scene, such as the paintings themselves, their preservation, mounting, framing, and value as investments. The Hett Gallery offers a wide selection of works, especially by Canadians. Examples of the creations of the Group of Seven, David Milne, Emily Carr are on display, together with many paintings and sculpture by contemporary American artists working in the modern style. You are invited to the Fall/Winter 1981 show to see works by Doug Haynes, Michael Steiner, Chin Shek Lam, Ann Clarke, and Darryl Hughto. Clients may be placed on the gallery's mailing list to be advised of upcoming shows. Consulting services for private collections are available, as is framing, art appraisal, and a range of art restoration services.

Johnson Gallery

7711 - 85 STREET
465-6171
HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 9:00-5:30
THURSDAY 'TIL 9:00

11817 - 80 STREET
479-8424
HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 9:00-5:30

With a large gallery space and both a north and south side location, Johnson Gallery is a prominent part of Edmonton's art scene. For over 15 years, John Johnson and Phyllis Bennetts have run this gallery with the purpose of presenting a wide range of art to suit many different tastes and budgets. In their plant-lined, cedar-walled rooms, the gallery presents works by 60 local, national and international artists. These include oil paintings, watercolours and graphics, as well as showings of decorative and pracatical pottery. The featured potter is Horst Doll of Sherwood Park. From September to December the gallery puts special emphasis on selected artists through well-advertised openings and exhibitions. These shows are at two-week intervals and are a fine opportunity to view works by the artists represented at Johnson Gallery.

Martin Gerard Gallery

10416 - 80 AVENUE
432-7480

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 9:30-6:00

Martin Gerard Gallery is an exciting young gallery in Edmonton dealing exclusively with contemporary works by North American painters and sculptors. Every three weeks the gallery presents a new individual or group exhibition. Works not currently on exhibit are available for viewing on request. The size of the gallery — nearly 7,000 square feet of exhibition space, private showroom and storage area — allows the handling of enormous canvasses and massive steel sculptures usually seen only in art museums. A gallery van transports and places art works in the client's home or business. A full-time consultant gives artistic and investment advice. As well, leasing and arrangements for work on approval are available. The gallery is a meeting place for owners, artists and critics from the centres of North American art. Credit: Visa. MasterCard.

Graphica Art Gallery

10357 WHYTE (82) AVENUE
432-1810

HOURS: TUESDAY-SATURDAY 10:00-5:30
FRIDAY 'TIL 9:00

Another bright spot for Old Strathcona is Graphica Art Gallery in the basement of the Tipton Block. Built in 1911 and restored by the Old Strathcona Foundation, the building offers a warm environment with its original brick walls and solid oak trimmings. Jean-Marcel Duciaume and Suzanne Devonshire Baker run this tri-lingual gallery, able to conduct business in English, French and Spanish. They carry work by nationally-acclaimed Canadian artists — paintings, original prints, drawings, watercolours, fibre arts, pottery and sculpture. At Graphica you will have a chance to see the many exciting works currently happening in French and English Canada. The gallery represents Norman Yates, Francine Gravel, Grant Leier, Bill Laing, Adeline Rockett, Lyndal Osborne and many others. Graphica has a new exhibition every three weeks, with openings announced through the newspapers, in magazines and by invitation.

Oxford Galleries

10464 - 82 AVENUE
439-6611

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 9:30-5:30
FRIDAY 'TIL 8:00

Oxford Galleries is part of the growing cultural life in Old Strathcona. Doug and Laura Wright and their staff present an interesting array of artwork and services in this two-floor gallery on Whyte Avenue. The main gallery on the second floor, spacious and relaxing, presents a wide scope of two- and three-dimensional work by contemporary Canadian artists. On street level, the print gallery features a selection of international graphics and reproductions. A professional custom framing operation stresses sensitivity to the proper presentation and preservation of art and craft-work. Skylit studios on the second floor provide several artists with a workplace. The familiarity between gallery and artist makes the process of creation as exciting as the product.

Downstairs Gallery

10154 - 103 STREET
429-3730 AND 429-4410
HOURS: TUESDAY-SATURDAY 9:30-5:30
MONDAY BY APPOINTMENT ONLY

Here, downtown, downstairs, you'll find the heart of Canadian art. Gallery owners Roger Woltjen and Doug Udell have created a place that specializes in bringing Canadian and international art to Edmonton. The gallery constantly gathers and presents fine art including works by the Group of Seven and their contemporaries, as well as contemporary colorfield paintings and sculptures. Internationally noted artists shown include Bruno Bobak, S. Cosgrove, H. Masson, G. Roberts and A. Sapp. Canadian artists featured include A. Caro, S. Boxer, D. Knowles, Jules Olitski and L. Poons. Fine art works may be brought here for evaluation and appraisal. If art interests you as an investment, you may wish to take advantage of their consulting service. They also offer consultations for corporate and private collectors. A lease service is also available. Whether you know art, or simply know what you like . . . here, you'll discover it at a glance.

Trevisan Galleries

10314 - 104 STREET
426-1208
HOURS: TUESDAY-SATURDAY 10:30-5:30

Recently established in the city, Trevisan Galleries offers the serious Edmonton art collector a direct link to the European art world. Bengt Lindstrom and Alain Blanc are owners of the Trevisan Art Diffusion in Paris, the art centre of the world. They decided to set up a sister gallery in western Canada to show and distribute European artists. Trevisan represents such artists as Braque, Chagall, Miro, Picasso and Dali. They also feature the stark, dramatic paintings of Lindström himself, which reflect the northern landscape and mythic heritage of his native Sweden. The gallery can obtain specific works by these and other artists. There is also a wide selection of lithographs, etchings and gallery posters available through their Paris company. They provide art consulting services for businesses and corporations. The gallery has regular exhibitions of their European artists; just ask to be on the mailing list to receive invitations. Gnome Gallery

482-5124
HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 10:00-5:00
THURSDAY 'TIL 8:00

How would you like to have your first encounter of the Gnome kind? Gnomes guard special treasures like the ones hidden in the Gnome Gallery. This business aims to make art available to everyone regardless of budget. Want a unique touch for your living room, bedroom, bath, kitchen or office wall? Look for international limited edition graphics, museum posters, pop art and a one-of-a-kind neon sculpture. Inspire your imagination with a giant crayola, or a beautifully framed poster of a well-danced, well-worn pair of point shoes. If you need expert help free consultation is available as well as a professional framing service. The Gnome Gallery deserves a bit of your time. It's more than a shopping experience, it's a treasure hunt!

West End Gallery

12308 JASPER AVENUE
488-4892
HOURS: TUESDAY-SATURDAY 9:30-5:00
THURSDAY 'TIL 9:00

Art lovers in Edmonton in increasing numbers are discovering the West End Gallery. A visit is like unearthing an exciting cache of treasure, in the form of Canadian paintings, prints and sculptures. Included in the West End Gallery's list of artists are the names of Meredith Evans, Toni Onley, Harry Heine and Carolyn Menu. The list continues on and so should you — on to the West End Gallery, which also offers regular solo exhibits and mailing announcements of new showings. Credit: Visa. MasterCard.

Ring House Gallery

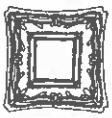
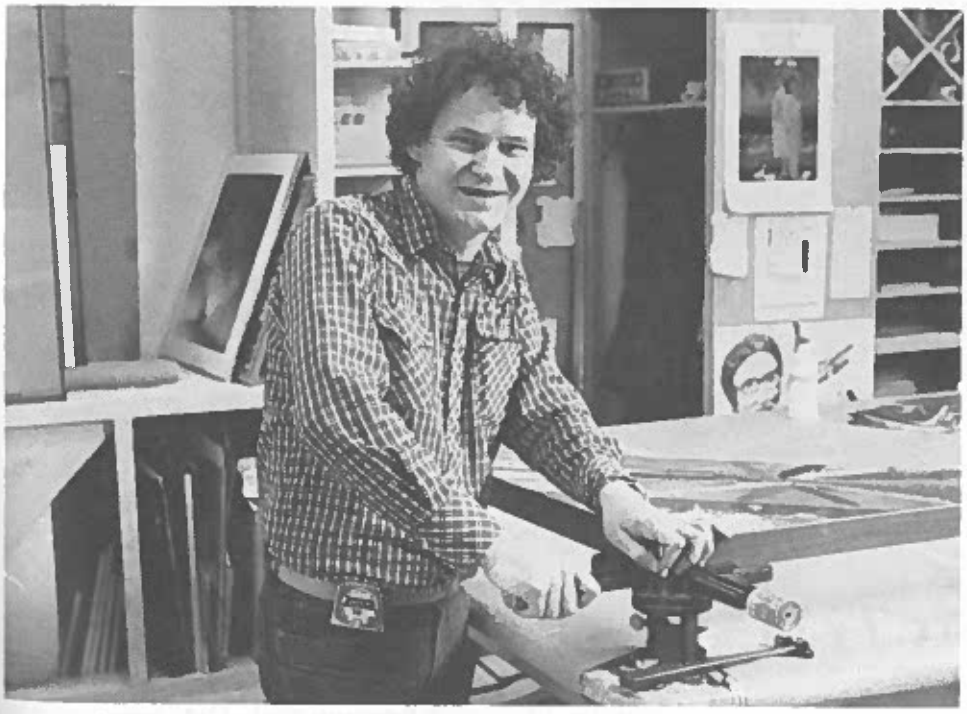
432-5834
HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 11:00-4:00
THURSDAY 11:00-9:00
SUNDAY 2:00-5:00

Though somewhat difficult to find amid the complexities of the university campus, the Ring House Gallery rewards anyone who seeks it out. Just behind the Faculty Club, the gallery resides in the house built in 1911 for the university's first president, Henry Marshall Tory. Since 1970 it has been featuring travelling exhibitions, local artists and displays from the university's permanent collection. Because of its unique situation, the gallery is able to exhibit works ranging from wall-hangings and neck pieces by an artisan collective in Ecuador, to works on paper by six young western Canadian artists, to photographs by Jasper mountaineer Joe Weiss. Ring House also presents receptions for their artists, and hosts lectures and seminars by university departments.



The Art Workshop

LETOURNEAU CENTRE
4624 - 99 STREET
434-5090
HOURS: TUESDAY-SATURDAY 9:30-5:30
THURSDAY 'TIL 9:00



Lynne Fahlman, Brad Bryson and Susan Bennett chose the name The Art Workshop to reflect their special combination of a contemporary art gallery within the casual setting of a framing workshop. As a gallery, they present work by young professionals. While some are familiar names, The Art Workshop emphasizes work by impressive new artists. As framers they offer complete professional service, including conservation framing, stretching and framing large canvasses, and an art crating and delivery service. Facilities and assistance are available for those who wish to do their own framing. In the area of instruction the gallery presents seminars where estabished artists discuss their work and techniques. Workshop staff give framing seminars in conjunction with the Edmonton Art Gallery and SUB Art Gallery. They will also give demonstrations to classes of art students on request.

Frame Craft 7711

7711 - 85 STREET
465-6171
HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 9:00-5:30
THURSDAY 'TIL 9:00

11817 - 80 STREET
479-8424
HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 9:00-5:30

John Johnson began framing in his father's basement shop nearly 25 years ago. He went on to open his own framing studio and has been exhibiting and framing art ever since. Frame Craft's workshop is the largest in the city and serves both their north and south side locations. They carry a full line of ready-made frames and over 400 styles of mouldings for custom framing. They can frame anything, no matter how unusual. They even carry round and oval frames in both plain and ornate styles from Europe and North America. Their specialty is framing needlework. In fact, customers have come from B.C. and Saskatchewan for their Smith needlework frames. You can also buy your own framing material here, including both regular and convex glass. Frame Craft will answer all mail requests for information and prices, and will ship goods to anywhere in the province.

The Art Store

10416 - 80 AVENUE
432-7276
HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 9:30-6:00

Old Strathcona continues to thrive as a southside business centre. The Art Store is another fine addition to the area; easy to get to, with a helpful, leisurely atmosphere. Everything an artist could need is here — primed and unprimed canvas, a wide range of papers, Neolt drafting supplies, pencils, markers and brushes. There are nine lines of oil paint, three of acrylic and five of water-colour. For added convenience, the store will deliver supplies. If they don't have what you're looking for, they'll order it on request. With two working artists and a B.F.A. graduate running the store, there's no shortage of knowledgeable assistance. Of particular interest are the art classes offered throughout the week in a spacious, sunny studio for the beginning, intermediate and advanced student.

Halldor's

12323 - 102 AVENUE
488-8672

HOURS:
MONDAY, TUESDAY,
WEDNESDAY, FRIDAY 10:00-6:00
THURSDAY 10:00-9:00
SATURDAY 10:00-5:00

Photo restoration, a specialty of Halldor's, is truly an art form. A photographic copy of the damaged original is made first and from the negative a reprint is produced on a suitable paper. Then, an artist does all the necessary corrective work by hand. The restored photo can then be framed . . . Halldor's displays a variety of oval and circle period frames. It also does custom framing to suit any taste and any art work. The idea is to match the frame to the picture so that they complement each other. Owner Sam Phillips' motto is "Quality selection and service." Ready-made frames are available, and cleaning and repairs of old frames and oil pictures is one of the services provided.

Vandenbrink Engraving

#210 EMPIRE BUILDING
10080 JASPER AVENUE
424-4983

HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 8:00-5:00

When members of the Royal Family visited Edmonton to open the 1978 Commonwealth Games, they were presented with gifts exquisitely engraved by Vandenbrink Engraving. The company also engraved the Commonwealth Games medals.

Vandenbrink Engraving specializes in family crests on signets, cut expertly to order. The store is also noted for a large stock of silver goblets, trays, pewter beer steins, and other items suitable for last minute gifts or special occasions. With many years experience in both Europe and Canada, John Vandenbrink will be happy to discuss any items requiring either hand or machine engraving. All work is done on the premises, and all inquiries are welcome.

The Cat's Meow

10530 - 124 STREET
488-3020

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 10:00-6:00
THURSDAY & FRIDAY 'TIL 9:00

To name her new shop in a way that would get the message to Edmonton shoppers, Eilleen Sisson hit on the phrase "the cat's meow", an old theatre expression to describe something exceptional. Exceptional indeed the shop became, appropriately theatrical in decor as well. The Cat's Meow is a potpourri of items for the discriminating shopper. You'll find soap crayons for kids to muck around in the bath, soft satin sculpture in whimsical shapes, hand blown artglass vases, Oriental desk accessories, satin animal face hats, a covey of creams and lotions, greeting cards, stationery, decorative wrapping paper, stuffed toys and various kinds of jewellery. Lots of fun and decorative accessories for the home and office. House specialties include everything on display. Brand new at The Cat's Meow are graphic prints and posters. Every item is a surprise, including a cappuccino and espresso bar where you can plan to meet a friend. Eilleen Sisson likes to think of her shop as an "oasis in the desert", a nook where wonderful things can be found. Whenever you are in a fanciful mood, head for The Cat's Meow. Credit: Visa. Knudsen's Pipe Dream

10109 - 101 STREET (DOWNSTAIRS)
429-2426
HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 9:30-5:30
THURSDAY 'TIL 9:00
WESTMOUNT MALL
135 ST. AND 111 AVENUE
454-6414
HOURS: MONDAY, TUESDAY, SATURDAY 9:30-5:30
WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, FRIDAY 9:30-9:00

Ste. Albans, Whispering Wind, Scottish Highland, Bosun's Pipe . . . romantic names to roll off your tongue. If you find the names appealing, you'll want to get to know these fine tobaccos each by its singular aroma. At Knudsen's Pipe Dream, the specialties include Burley, Virginia and Oriental tobaccos. Sit down at the counter, have a cup of coffee, and discover what pipe or cigar smoking is truly about. Arrayed in glass jars are the blends prepared exclusively for Knudsen's . . . all natural tobaccos with no artificial additives. There are boxes of hand-rolled cigars from Cuba, Jamaica and Brazil. Gary Maitland, David May and Kim Hay are expert aficionados, and can articulate the smoking appeal of each tobacco. They'll provide you with a taste, then carefully blend your choice. They are also, as you might expect, well versed in the subject of pipes. They'll tour you through their collection, give advice on caring for the one you've chosen, or recondition an old favourite. Holly's Nostalgia

425-9151
HOURS: MONDAY, TUESDAY, SATURDAY 10:30-5:30
WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, FRIDAY 'TIL 9:00

Remember when Bogie tipped his hat and broke a heart? When Bette Davis lowered her lashes and lowered resistance. When Fred Astaire could make a girl spin? Those were the days. Slower, softer, simpler and always touched by a breath of romance. Some of the best of those years has been recaptured at Holly's. Holly Harper has created a department store in miniature with an atmosphere of gentle friendliness long gone by in larger stores. Past charms can be found here in the whimsical selection of original antique clothing from the 1920s, 30s and 40s. Both a nostalgic and modern art deco look is represented in a unique assortment of giftware including china, embroidered silk boxes, glassware, sterling and hand enamelled earrings from China, bangles, baubles, widgets, what-nots and whatevers. With every visit you'll discover something new . . . or old. Something giftwrapped from Holly's is a work of art in itself. The choice of cards is charming; stationery and paper are selected for their uniqueness and quality. If you remember . . . or would like a taste of the romance that was, let Holly's take you back. Because here, everything old is new again.

Kites and Other Delights

114 KINGSWAY GARDEN MALL
471-4018

HOURS: MONDAY, TUESDAY, SATURDAY 9:30-5:30
WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, FRIDAY 'TIL 9:00

After soundly trouncing Napoleon at Waterloo, you turn to the task of enchanting a castle's goblin-guards. Overhead, in the true blue of the summer sky, the giant dragon soars at your command. Pure fun and games? Exactly. Chris Newell at Kites and Other Delights offers you both . . . on a string, in a bag, or by the book. This place is devoted to your playful side, and everything is designed to make your imagination soar. First, all eyes up, to the universally delightful sport of kite-flying. Novice string-tanglers to expert neck craners will be inspired by the winsome bevy of kites made from nylon, paper and more . . . some very unusual, some decorative; large, small, special stunt models, and of course, dragon kites. You'll also find all the string, winders and accessories you may need. If, however, you prefer things more down to earth, try the collection of Frisbees and Boomerangs. Inside activities take your imagination to new heights with games such as the wildly popular Dungeons & Dragons, the Avalon-Hill History series, Ral Partha miniatures and SPI. Then you can choose from a variety of embellishments; all those little extras that give your strategies a boost. A trip to Kites and Other Delights is the closest thing in town to a flight of fancy. When the kid in you smiles, you'll know things are looking up.

The Park Bench Card and Gift Shop

HY'S CENTRE, 11010 - 101 STREET
426-0327

HOURS: MONDAY-WEDNESDAY 9:30-6:00
THURSDAY & FRIDAY 9:30-9:00
SATURDAY 9:30-5:30

If you're left-handed, this place will treat you right. Just inside the Park Bench, is a section called "The Left Handed Shoppe". This is where southpaws will find a variety of items to help them do things right . . . er, left. Whatever, owners Dewey and Diane Mowat have made a special effort to make lefties feel less left out, which is only right. Items include cards, books, cooking utensils, notebooks, and the left-handers nemesis . . . scissors. T-shirts and buttons upholding one's right to be left are also popular here. There is even a children's section for junior lefties. Right-handers aren't stuck out in left field, however. The rest of the shop is filled with greeting cards and gifts for all. There is a good selection of Carlton and other cards. Gift ideas come in wicker, china, crystal, craftworks and more. You can choose some very unusual wrap, too. If your gift is destined for someone at the Royal Alexandra Hospital, the wrapping treatment is free! In Edmonton, it's quite right to say that the Park Bench picks up where other card and gift shops have left off.

HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 11:00-6:00
SATURDAY 10:00-5:00

It's a doggone shame we all can't lead a dog's life, at least, the kind of pampered life Bowser's treated to at Doghouse. Just ask your furry friend. He'll tell you that George and Florence Belter's store has everything any dog or cat could ask for, no bones about it. Tail-wagging supplies include a selection to top dog and cat foods such as: Purina, Gaines, Waynes, Tuffy's, Dr. Ballard's and Ken-L Ration. Items imported from around the world offer a finicky Fido or Fluffy the best in leashes, collars, grooming supplies, beds, vitamins, cages, shipping crates, training equipment, toys and treats. Then there are the guaranteed ear perkers like "Christian Diog" apparel, 4-paws cologne, a four foot rawhide bone, or doggy waterbeds by Johnson. A romp around the Doghouse will unearth one of western Canada's largest selection of books about dogs. And they still have room for kennel supplies, rabbit crates and an oster clipper repair service. Every year, the Belters organize the "World of Dogs" for the Edmonton Sportsman Show. But the real world of dogs and cats is at their stores, where you can fetch whatever your pet needs.

At Ramsay's Flowers, everything's coming up roses! Well, not everything. Coming up too are carnations and daisies, gladiolas and mums, orchids and anthuriums. Ramsay's has been specializing in fresh flowers for 75 years. Their qualified floral designers are experts in Oriental, European and Canadian arrangements. The business has blossomed to include floral garths for horses in the winners' circle and exotic arrangements to suit wine, cheese and caviar parties. Ramsay's is noted for sprays and displays for traditional weddings, dinners, parties and hospital cheer-ups. This is the source for bouquets for dignitaries visiting Edmonton; Pierre Trudeau, Joe Clark, President Gerald Ford, the Lord Mayor of London and Queen Elizabeth among them. Other specialties include silk flowers and a selection of plants. Many brides-to-be have taken advantage of Ramsay's consultation service, which also extends to commercial, convention and hotel accounts. Even the Edmonton Oilers and Edmonton Eskimos can attest to the artistry of floral arrangements from Ramsay's Flowers.

Willard's House of Magic

11009 JASPER AVENUE
488-9705

HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 9:30-5:30
SATURDAY 10:00-6:00

Haven't you always wanted to pull a rabbit out of a hat, or produce that endless chain of handkerchiefs from your sleeve? Then again, maybe you've done all that and you're working on the disappearing elephant trick. Whatever, Willard's House of Magic is where you should seek such grand illusions. Wilfred Willard, a practicing magician, and his wife Rita opened their store in 1974 and have been astounding Edmontonians ever since. You'll see the photos and posters of The Amazing Willard with his magician peers as you explore the shelves of magic tricks. How about Dr. Druid's Haunted Sequence — in Stereo? Mr. Willard will explain the effect of any trick that takes your fancy. But the knowledge of how it's done is only for the dedicated student of this ancient art.

Wizard T-Shirts

8619 - 109 STREET
433-3668

HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 8:30-5:00
SATURDAY 10:00-4:00

Like its namesake Oz, Wizard T-Shirts does wonderful, magical things: it creates fantasies on cloth. Wizard's creative artwork and high quality imprinting on T-shirts, sportswear, and other textiles runs to logos and designs for companies, clubs and community groups. You can bring your own design or ask the staff to create something unique. Or, you might find just what you're looking for in the sample catalogue of artwork and designs. A favourite is the store's own "Wizard" T-shirt. All designs are heat-cured and printed to stand up to repeated washings and rough treatment. T-shirt printing continues to be a popular form of self-expression and advertising. Theatre and dance groups, athletic clubs and teams, rock concerts, schools and colleges all have ordered Wizard T-shirts. Delivery period is kept short and free parking is abundant in the vicinity. For a fine fantasy on fabric, remember the Wizard of 109 Street.

The Film Box

11820 - 103 STREET
EDMONTON, ALBERTA T5T 2J2
471-1338

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 8:00-6:00
TUESDAY & THURSDAY 'TIL 10:00

Every camera buff has thought of developing his own pictures, but acquiring the equipment, know-how and darkroom space are daunting problems. Enter the Film Box. They rent fully-equipped colour darkrooms by the hour, day or month. Paper processing is fully automatic and mounting facilities are close at hand. Used by amateurs and professionals alike, this is a truly unique service in Edmonton. If you are a beginner, the people at the Film Box will show you how to use the darkroom in their regular photographic courses. These range from basic colour printing to specialized sessions on mini-printers, and colour analyzers and seminars on scenic and wedding photography. The Film Box also stocks photographic papers, chemicals, over 100 types of films, and even rents studio flash units. If you prefer your own darkroom they can equip anything from a converted broom closet to a professional photo lab. Colour films are processed on the premises in the Film Box's rapid access lab.

Year Round Celebrations

12411 STONY PLAIN ROAD
482-5030

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 10:00-5:30
THURSDAY 'TIL 9:00

You won't find another store like this if you walk a thousand miles from Edmonton in any direction. It celebrates celebrations. It is a year round Christmas store offering all year long the most extensive and complete line of Christmas goodies, such as beautiful china, wreaths, bells, centre-pieces, tree ornaments, nativity sets, door swags, and dozens of other accoutrements large and small.

In June, a two-week fund event features Santa Claus in a summer suit! The Christmas theme is just to get you in a rousing mood for other occasions that call for fanciful gifts like unusual soaps, serendipity fairy tale books, straw boxes, wool and silk scarfs, clay molds for shortbread, Canadian maple wooden toys, hearth brooms, and a thousand and one other surprises. Where has owner Leanne Forest Zapisocky found all these treasures? She may not tell, but she will be happy to make gift baskets to order for Valentine's, Easter, Mother's Day, or for whenever you have a reason to celebrate.

Galactica Computers

10021 - 103 AVENUE
429-1426

HOURS: MONDAY-WEDNESDAY
10:00-6:00
THURSDAY, FRIDAY 10:00-9:00
SATURDAY 10:00-5:00

There's no denying that we are in the computer age. Indeed it might be called the Personal Computer Age. Suddenly there are small, reasonably priced computers with applications in every area of business and personal use. James Danilon and Dave Wright of Galactica Computers have the knowledge and products to introduce you to the full spectrum of the new microcomputer technology. They offer a wide range of computer systems including Apple II and III computers and Cromemco. Naturally, they carry the software for both systems, and for the TRS-80 line as well. Once you have elected the best system for you, Galactica will train you in its use, and install, service and repair it. And since it is the software — the programs from which the computer operates — which makes personal computers so flexible, Galactica Computers can design custom software applications.

Miller Stationers

10211 - 105 STREET
EDMONTON, ALBERTA T5J 1A8
423-5121

HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 8:15-5:00

From modest beginnings in 1922, when a staff of four sold books, cards, gifts and office supplies in a small store on Jasper Avenue, Miller Stationers has grown to 150 employees, including a professional sales and design staff. The store offers office furnishings, systems and supplies to Edmonton's burgeoning business community.

Anything from pens, pencils and paper clips to filing cabinets, swivel chairs and impressive executive desks can be ordered with one simple phone call. And you can be sure delivery will be prompt. Currently operating out of their downtown site, Miller plans to move to a new 100,000 square foot premises in the Eastgate Business Park (50th Street and 92 Avenue) in the summer of 1982, just in time to celebrate their 60th Anniversary. The new offices will include a showroom and stationery centre, and a computerized order entry system, to help Miller maintain its position as the most modern independent stationer in western Canada. To merit the continued confidence of its customers, the company endeavours always to provide the best, in product, facility and service. Credit: Visa. MasterCard. American Express.

William Switzer and Associates

10247 - 123 STREET
EDMONTON, ALBERTA T5N 1N3
482-5702
HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 8:30-5:00

William Switzer and Associates offers a very personal interior design service to Edmontonians. Specializing in custom furnishings and the finest quality antiques and reproductions, the studio is in a charming older home in the gallery row area of Oliver. William Switzer has been in the design business for over 30 years and his firms are well established in Calgary and Vancouver. Debbie Gilbertson, Edmonton's managing partner, advises that sources for furniture and fabric are world-wide, increasingly supplemented by custom furnishings made by local and national craftsmen. Such furnishings are always made to the exacting standards of the designers and range from carpets to upholstered seating. Interior design consultation for homes, professional offices, and specialized commercial spaces is available.

Scott-Colvin Interiors Edmonton

#801 - 8220 JASPER AVENUE
424-1233
HOURS: BY APPOINTMENT

The aim of Aurilee Scott and James Colvin is to design an environment perfect for you. Whether you wish rooms full of cheer, grace, charm or excitement; a place for efficiency, quiet, comfort or study, Scott-Colvin Interiors Edmonton can create it. Their specialty is residential design and they are known for spectacular show homes as well as private assignments. They also design environments for offices, galleries, shops, restaurants and other commercial areas. Whatever size your project the approach is always professional. To estabish exactly what you have in mind, they like to meet with you in the place where the work is to be done. Then they present a workable plan geared to budget and time requirements. They also give you a cost estimate before any work progresses. Not even the little things are left to your concern. You may even take advantage of their shopping service. Because they are not associated with any particular suppliers, they tap sources from all over North America. Just as you would yourself, they can obtain the best quality at the most competitive price.

Woodcraft Design

25 RAYBURN CRESCENT
ST. ALBERT
458-9044
HOURS: MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY, FRIDAY 9:30-4:30
THURSDAY 'TIL 9:00
SATURDAY 10:00-5:00

One of the most versatile products on today's market — wicker particularly rattan — finds a good home at Woodcraft Design. Many styles and room groupings are found in the showroom: dining sets, living room sets, and bedroom furniture, plus a variety of occasional pieces such as headboards, screens, blinds, floor mats, lampshades and many others. They can add character, charm and warmth to any home. The stock is constantly replenished with new items. Unusual pieces can be ordered for individual customers. Woodcraft Design also carries oak furniture of its own manufacture: wall systems, tea wagons, coffee and end tables. Reinhold Brandt, who manages the store with his wife Renate, has been building furniture and cabinets for 20 years. He was trained in Germany, and his European craftsmanship shows in every piece. He also custom makes items out of wood to customers' specifications.
Woodcraft Design is located a short distance away from the main track where prices can be held reasonably low. If you make the trip you will be able to admire many showpieces complemented by a collection of hand-made sculpture, carvings, Royal Albert Clocks, and pencil sketches.

438-4094

HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 8:00-5:00
SATURDAY 9:30-4:30
CLOSED SATURDAY JULY & AUGUST

Perhaps the only thing missing from your home is the warm sound of clock chimes. Steinbring Clock Industries of Edmonton offers a long line of majestic grandfather clocks, convenient wall hanging varieties, and mantel clocks, all equipped with the finest German-built movements. Grandfather clocks are fashioned in French provincial, Danish modern, or other traditional styles. In addition to their wide selection of unusual designs, Steinbring will also build customized grandfather and other residential clocks. Steinbring is one of only three grandfather clock manufacturers in Canada; the other two are in eastern Canada. Manager Wally Steinbring is proud of his company's accomplishments, which include substantial orders from the east. He is happy to show his selection of movements and do-it-yourself kits to the hobbyist. Steinbring Clock Industries is a division of Steinbring Woodcrafts Ltd., manufacturers of office, residential and church furniture. If your grandfather neglected to leave you a clock, come and hear the chimes at Steinbring.

HOURS: TUESDAY-SATURDAY 9:30-5:30
THURSDAY & FRIDAY 'TIL 9:00

The House of Maple likes to be known by its nickname, Browsers' Paradise, because you are invited, indeed expected, to come in and browse as much as you like. You'll see Colonial and Early American furniture, in maple, pine, oak and birch. On display are dining room, bedroom and living room sets by leading manufacturers: Vilas, Roxton, Krug Bros., and Knechtel. Rocking chairs are the house specialty — between 30 and 40 different styles are in stock at all times. Many Colonial accessories and pictures are also available, as is a complete line of Colonial-styled upholstery . . . sofas, chairs, swivel rockers and loveseats. Special orders are welcome, and all sales include full service, inspection, delivery and setup, with a one year money-back guarantee.

Pine Village Quilts

10808 - 124 STREET
455-2453

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 10:00-5:00
THURSDAY 'TIL 9:00

On 124 Street, the casual shopper finds shops and boutiques to tempt him for hours. One of the most unique establishments there is Pine Village Quilts. A family business, Pine Village Quilts is a Canadian cottage industry with the atmosphere of a village store. An exclusive line of pre-Confederation furniture is accentuated by hand-made quilts of many colours. Traditional quilt patterns conjure up visions of pioneer women creating heirlooms of the finest quality. As well, there is an interesting selection of goose and duck down comforters plus brass and copper lamps. Customization has earned Pine Village Quilts an excellent reputation. Steve and Suzy Pakozdy fill orders for custom-made furniture, custom staining, custom quilts, curtains, lamp shades and comforters . . . proof that fine workmanship and quality merchandise is as much a part of today as yesterday.

Daville Lighting

8718 - 51 AVENUE
465-2273
HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 9:00-5:30
THURSDAY 'TIL 9:00

Lighting can make the difference between an average looking house and one that literally "lights up". All it takes is an attractive lamp here and some imaginative indirect lighting there. Daville Lighting specializes in advice and products to make it all happen in your home. Husband and wife team, Richard and Elaine Davies, try to give each customer their personal attention. They have a wide range of lighting designs to meet every conceivable need. The store carries lighting fixtures by Lightolier, Lite-Trend, Sarama and many other brand names, as well as table, floor and hanging lamps by Singer, Engelite, Westwood, Laurel, and Century Sales. Daville also offers an assortment of fixtures for the outdoors to light your house and garden properly at night. See the team at Daville for illuminating products and advice.

Varem's Spindle Shop

16708 - 111 AVENUE
483-9313

HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 8:00-4:30
THURSDAY 'TIL 8:00
CLOSED SATURDAYS

While a great deal of planning usually goes into furnishing and decorating a home, the staircase is often neglected. Varem's Spindle Shop caters to anyone who wants to turn a staircase into a showpiece. Varem's specializes in all wood spiral stairs and features 20 designs of top quality hardwood spindles for installation of railings. All come in a wide variety of woods — Mahogany, Red Elm, Ash Oak, Koa Walnut, and Teak. Also featured are railings, curved or straight, balusters and posts to serve the needs of home builders, renovators or do-it-yourselfers, and a line of hardwood moldings. Varem's Spindle Shop is a family business owned and operated by Albertans, proud of its commitment to high quality workmanship and service. The owners try their hardest to please. On one occasion they came to the rescue of a magician from California who needed eggs for his act but had left them at home. Very quickly the Spindle Shop fashioned some wooden eggs for him. Not surprisingly, the Shop's motto is: for all your hardwood needs.

It's probably a good thing that Alexander Graham Bell never realized what his invention would talk us into. A man of his era would never have understood a Mickey Mouse phone, let alone the Alexander Graham Plane phone. However, he certainly would have been amazed at the capabilities of today's talking machine, regardless of style. If you haven't heard about the latest ways to plug into the world, have a talk with the people at The Phone Exchange. They can show you all kinds of practical and attractive phones to rent or purchase. Choose from efficient ear and eye pleasing models like: Contempra, Nitelight, Candlestick, Diplomat, Rendez-vous, Dawn and The Doodle. Or choose something friendly such as the Woodstock & Snoopy, or Mickey Mouse replicas. Then, just take it home, plug it in . . . and you're connected. As a branch of "edmonton telephones", owned and operated by the City of Edmonton, The Phone Exchange handles all connections and disconnections for telephone, power and water lines. All repair work for your phone is handled from here too. They will even take utility payments. So one stop, or one call, does it all. In addition, they can show you other communication aids such as answering machines, pagers, answer-only phones and all kinds of accessories. An annual catalogue will acquaint you with everything they offer. But a visit makes hearing believing.

Modena Ceramics

16536 - 117 AVENUE
EDMONTON T5M 3W2
451-2275; TELEX 037-42762
HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 8:00-4:30
SATURDAY 8:00-4:00

The Italian city of Modena lies in a low plain on the south side of the Po Valley, half an hour's drive southeast of Parma. Its cathedral dates back to 1099 and the town hall to 1194. In the last ten centuries the city has been fought over by many armies, but its current reputation is based on a masterful product, namely beautiful tiles. Modena Ceramic Distributors Ltd. provides Edmontonians with the widest selection of top quality ceramic wall and floor tiles from leading Italian factories. Their selection includes Klinker tiles (made of unglazed quarry) used principally for outdoor areas and such accessories for the home handy-person as soap dishes, glue and grouting materials. They also provide free blueprint readings, decorating advice, and expertise on what tiles can be used best for different purposes. If you are putting tiles in your kitchen, have a good look at the store's import line of European modular kitchen cabinets by Salvarani of Italy. These ultra modern designs come in traditional oak, and contemporary laminate in white, green and brown. Tiles are beautiful and need minimal maintenance. They blend easily with any decor in the kitchen or anywhere else. The best of European design awaits you at Modena Ceramics.

Dreger's Kitchen Corner

10442 WHYTE AVENUE
433-4421

HOURS: MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY, FRIDAY 8:30-5:30
THURSDAY 8:30-5:30 & 7:00-9:00
SATURDAY 10:00-4:00

Anybody who loves cooking has already mentally designed his or her own dream kitchen — the stove should be there, the counter should be just so high, the sink should be accessible from here. It's a fair bet that no two dream kitchens are alike. Each chef, like an artist, demands a personalized atelier. For a quarter of a century, Dreger's Kitchen Corner has been making just such dreams come true, creating kitchen environments as individual as the people who inhabit them. Cabinets are not stocked at Dreger's, but custom-ordered from such high quality houses as Allmilmo, Beckermann, Coppes and Hanover, all finely-crafted and designed to make your kitchen as exciting as it is functional. Dreger's provides a full service that takes your kitchen plan from imagination to reality . . . design, co-ordination and installation. Appliances featured at Dreger's include the complete line of Theramador products, Sub Zero refrigeration equipment and Kohler ceramics for both kitchen and bath. Dreger's four certified kitchen designers are experts at changing dreams into culinary showplaces.

International Kitchens

15916 - 114 AVENUE
452-4230

HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 8:00-5:00
SATURDAY 10:00-3:00

Quality materials and construction make a new kitchen a worthy investment. Just ask Elaine Coachman. As owner and coordinator of International Kitchens, Elaine can advise you on the most functional designs for this special room. Exclusive cabinetry comes in solid hardwoods or long-lasting laminates in a variety of colours. These are complemented by Corian or laminate counter tops. All cabinetry is made to order either to fill specifications of the architect or the customer. The most advanced appliances including Sub Zero, Thermador and Jenn-Air serve as the kitchen's final glory. The professional and personal touch of this establishment is all that is needed to make yours an International Kitchen.

Salisbury Greenhouses

P.O. BOX 3093
SHERWOOD PARK, ALBERTA T8A 2A6
467-5743

HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 9:00-6:00
SATURDAY 9:00-5:00
SUNDAY 10:00-5:00

In love with blooms? Hooked on foliage? Visit Salisbury Greenhouses. A greenhouse that started as a hobby, Salisbury is now open all year long and stretches over four well-planned, fertile acres.

The retail outlet is a major attraction of Sherwood Park. Each spring Salisbury supplies hardy bedding plants to gardening enthusiasts. Salisbury's poinsettias and Easter lilies have become holiday traditions, while most customers enjoy shopping year round for favorite tropical plants, cacti and potted mums. Salisbury also has a wholesale side. The greenhouse provides stock for chains throughout Alberta, Saskatchewan and the North West Territories. Sail Distributors, the commercial arm of the company, is recognized for its beautiful interior planting as can be viewed at the Edmonton Inn. This service branch plants and maintains foliage for businesses and offices. A leasing plan is available and of course, all work is guaranteed. Credit: Visa.

The Plant Cupboard

8911 - 112 STREET
433-4342
HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 10:00-6:00
10110 - 149 STREET
483-1681
HOURS: MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY, SATURDAY 9:30-5:30
THURSDAY & FRIDAY 'TIL 9:00

The Plant Cupboard is at least partly responsible for the greening of Edmonton. It was the first store in Edmonton devoted exclusively to house plants and accessories. Originally it began as a big oak cupboard full of plants at Hub Mall, hence the name. From these modest roots, it grew into a full-service florist, plant shop, and commercial plant rental and maintenance business. One of its well-known trademarks is its exceptional floral service including a broad, colourful selection of cut flowers in the Hub Mall. The west-end store features silk flowers and trees from a few inches tall to 10 feet! Both locations carry unusual bromeliads, epiphytes, arid and jungle plants, plus many varieties of foliage and flowering plants. Sculptured works, lots of wicker and brassware, John Coiner face mugs and pottery lend themselves to gift giving. Custom terrariums, Hawaiian lava plantings, bonsai and custom design wall murals of plants and flowers are other features of the Plant Cupboard. From a full commercial plant service with guaranteed maintenance to a striking but lovable fig — get all your greenery at the Plant Cupboard, serving Alberta with beautiful plants since 1974.

#2 EDMONTON CENTRE
426-6303
HOURS: MONDAY, TUESDAY, SATURDAY 9:30-5:30
WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, FRIDAY 9:30-9:00

That Kitchen Place, with two locations in Edmonton, was designed, says owner Cynthia Bahnuik, to provide complete gourmet needs for cooks of all calibres. Originally established in 1975 in Regina, Saskatchewan, the first Edmonton store opened in the now popular retail area of 124 Street. A second shop was set up in Edmonton Centre to cater to the busy downtown core. Along with its extensive selection of kitchen needs, That Kitchen Place prides itself on an enterprising cooking school where local chefs as well as some notable international names such as Jacques Pepin and Mme. Benoit come to instruct. Special touches include an executive gift service, a twice-yearly catalogue and cooking school brochure, special request orders, and a bridal registry to help new brides equip their kitchen. Whether you are looking for an electric pasta maker or a simple wooden spoon, That Kitchen Place can accommodate you with quality merchandise and friendly, knowledgeable staff.

Eastwharf Seafoods

7331 - 104 STREET
432-7851

HOURS: TUESDAY-SATURDAY 9:00-6:00

For years Edmontonians have had to endure their distance inland from fresh seafood. Now, that's changed, since Eastwharf Seafoods has come to the rescue with the best, most complete fish market Albertans ever had. Inside this spotlessly clean facility, there are fresh oysters, scallops and shrimp, B.C. salmon, halibut, sole and an abundance of others . . . smoked or frozen too. Eastwharf imports live Atlantic lobster, with enough demand for this delicacy to use a 3,000-pound capacity tank. Inspect the supply of canned gourmet seafoods, and cooking utensils, about which Eastwharf knows a thing or three . . . they cater, too! This popular service offers seafood platters for any size party; even a backyard lobster set-up, complete with portable cooking units. Do you belong to a weight loss club? If so, bring your membership card to qualify for a 10% discount and enjoy fish as a great low calorie alternative (beware the lobster). Credit: Visa.

Queen City Meats

11104 - 102 AVENUE
426-2575
HOURS: TUESDAY & WEDNESDAY
9:00-6:00
THURSDAY & FRIDAY 9:00-9:00
SATURDAY 8:00-6:00

Queen City Meats has been delighting the palates of Edmontonians since 1918. During the years between wars the sausage kitchen at the back of the store was a favourite meeting place for judges from the nearby court building. Every Saturday night everything left over on the counter was auctioned off. World War II and meat rationing put an end to such extravagances, but the shop was destined to become a landmark. In an era of pre-packaged meats, it offers that old-time butcher shop atmosphere and a wide selection of fresh meats at reasonable prices. Imagine nearly two dozen showcases piled high with meat! Every cut of beef, pork, lamb or veal, comes from selected Alberta-grown animals. They can also find made-in-store ham and garlic sausage, wieners, smokies, a variety of luncheon loaves, several European-type sausages, poultry, pickles, cheeses, spices, breads and buns. Queen City Meats supplies the dining tables of many of Edmonton's most prominent families, some of whom have patronized the store for three generations. The staff can converse with you in French, Italian, Dutch, German, Ukrainian, Polish and Hungarian (English too if you like). Deliveries can be made to your door in a refrigerator-truck free of charge.

All Seasons Natural Foods

10539 - 124 STREET
EDMONTON, ALBERTA T5N 1R5
HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 9:30-6:00
SATURDAY 9:30-5:30

Fast food doesn't have to be junk food. After all, what's faster than an apple? As with choosing the apple over a chocolate bar, All Seasons aims to offer good ideas as well as good food to those interested in diet improvement. The first time you visit All Seasons, they'll pass you a free glass of carrot juice to sip while you browse. In one corner, you'll find a large book selection covering everything from recipes to remedies. All the ingredients you read about are found in the store's extensive selection of bulk herbs, herbal teas, protein powders, grains, nuts, dried fruits and other foods. Vitamin brands features such names as Quest, Trophic and Swiss. Downright delicious juices can be made at home with one of their Acme, Nutrimax or Champion juicers. For the outside, natural cosmetics are available from Naturade, Rachel Perry and Mill Creek. Freshly ground flours such as wheat, rice and barley can be waiting for you with just a phone call in advance. The fresh peanut butter is always at its crunchy best. Finally, All Seasons makes a point of keeping prices as low as possible.

Java Jive

KINGSWAY GARDEN MALL
477-6575

BONNIE DOON SHOPPING CENTRE
468-2047

HUB MALL, UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA
433-5573

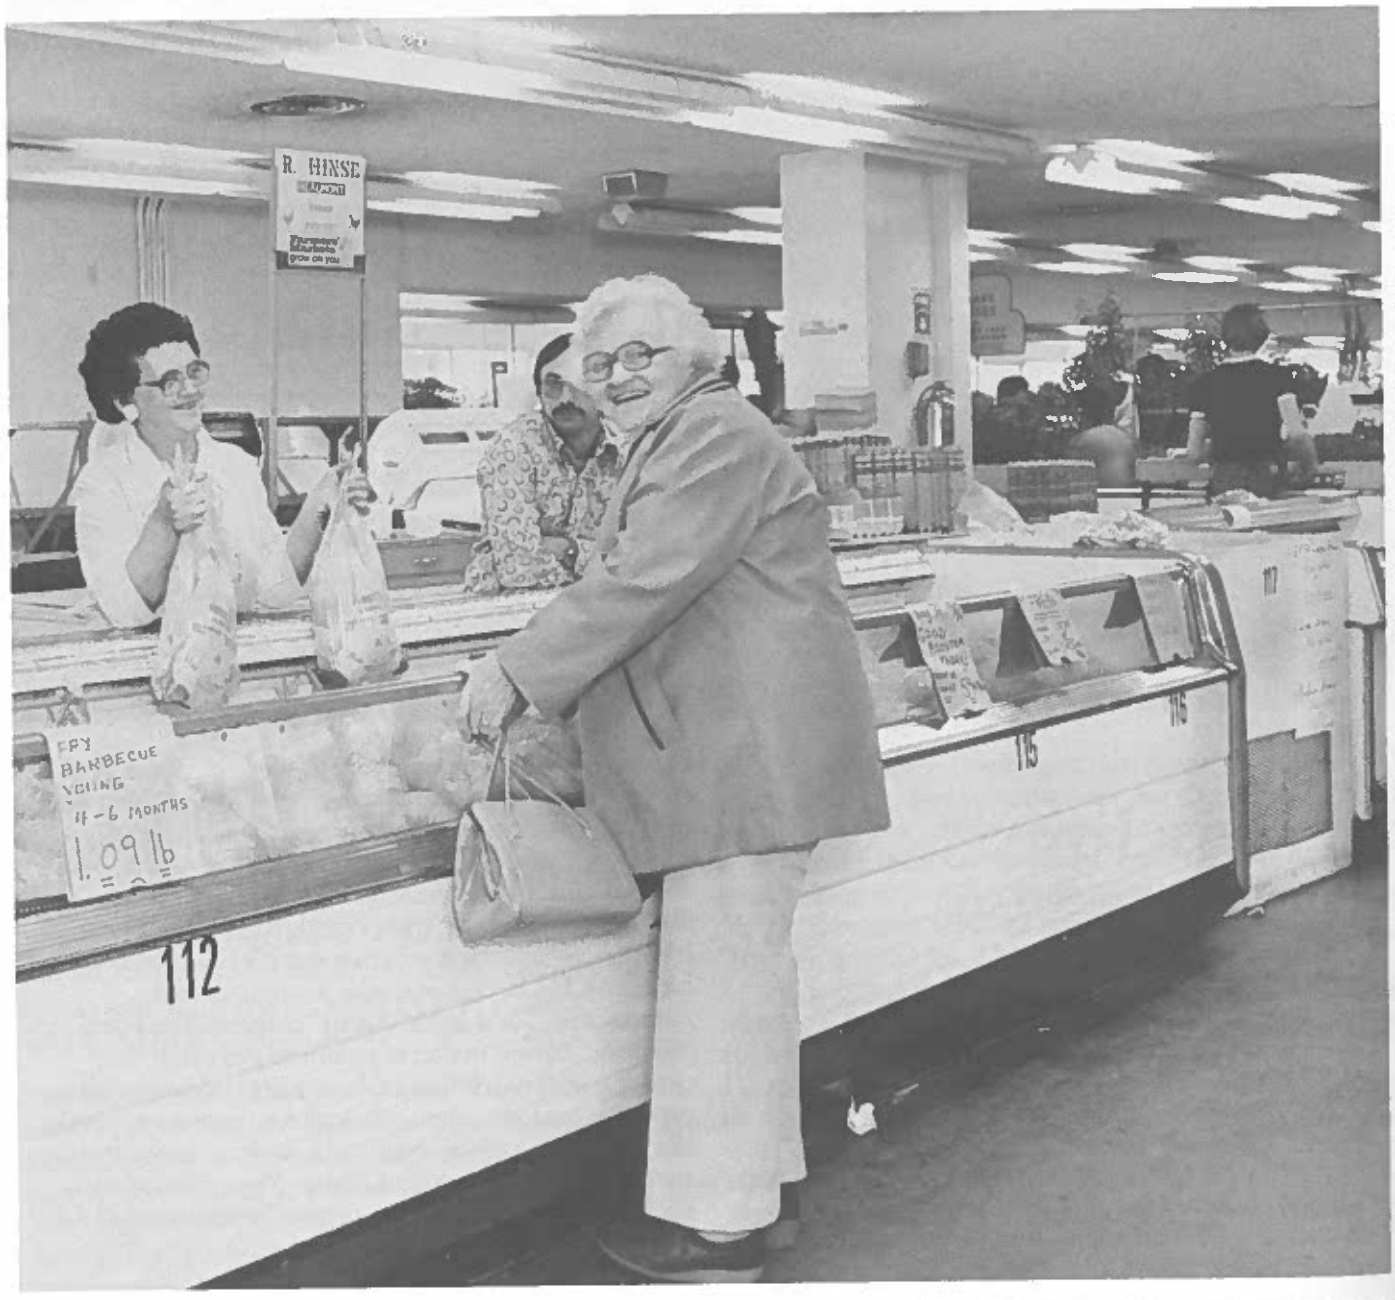
This is not where to get a freeze-dried, reheated cup of gulp and dash. Java Jive are the words for the best cup of coffee in town. Just deciding which kind to choose might take up your entire coffee break. Brewing the enjoyment back into a cup of coffee or tea is what Java Jive is all about. You can treat yourself to some piping hot relaxation, opting for one of two daily featured gourmet coffees and eight teas. Or, take that superb sip-ability with you, by the pound, from Java Jive's impressive selection of gourmet blends. Custom blending for both beverages is the rule here. Accessories for a great cupful come in the form of mugs, coffee makers, Japanese porcelain tea pots, an extensive line of home and commercial espresso makers, even (to make a treat complete) imported chocolate. Not to be missed is the house specialty, Cappuccia de Crema. Your choice of light or dark roast coffee, topped with mounds of fresh whipped cream, sprinkled with chocolate. Now, if only the office perk could do that!

City of Edmonton Farmers Market

10165 - 97 STREET
428-4389

HOURS: SATURDAY 7:00-5:30
WEEKDAYS 8:00-5:30

At the turn of the century, farmers transported their produce into Edmonton by horse-drawn wagon to sell it from stalls in the centre of the young frontier city. The descendants of some of these same farming families are still selling produce (and handicrafts too) at the Farmers Market. Run by the City of Edmonton, the Farmers Market provides city-bound folks with the chance to buy direct from the producer. In May and June, there's always a rush to buy the excellent bedding plants nurtured in country hothouses. From August to October the stalls are piled high with new potatoes, onions, tomatoes and every other vegetable grown in the province. You can also shop for fresh eggs, baked goods, jewellery, ceramics, crocheted works and Irish pottery. The Market butcher runs a year-round shop, especially popular for its fresh turkeys at Christmas. There is also a specialty fish market, and a shop for imported fruit and vegetables to tide you over until spring.



The Ice Pedlar

12136 - 121A STREET
HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 8:00-5:00
SUMMER: 8:00 - 12 MIDNIGHT

Some like it hot. But if you want it on the rocks, under glass or over ice and very, very cold, the Ice Pedlar delivers. For eight years, Martin and Ray Dorfman have prided themselves in the hardest, clearest, purest ice and the snappiest delivery service in town. When they say that they can supply every ice need, they mean it. After all, they supplied ice for the Queen's biffy during the Commonwealth Games (don't ask why). Your ice needs may be more mundane but with the Ice Pedlar you're certainly not restricted to cubes. You can order crushed or block ice too, get packages in three to fifty pound weights, and even have a buffet ice sculpture done! As a big extra, they also offer other party supplies including plastic glasses of every shape and size, paper plates, table covers, liquor dispensors, beer and wine tubs, napkins and ashtrays. They can supply liquor tickets, sno-cone machines, ice making equipment, even bartenders. Pick it up or have it delivered free in Edmonton. Either way, party-planning with the Ice Pedlar makes it hard to slip up. A price list is available on request. If you only need a little ice, you can pick up genuine ice man ice at any retail ice outlet. Just look for a snowman on the label.

Arthur Clausen Antiques

14508 - 118 AVENUE
452-1297

HOURS: TUESDAY-SATURDAY 10:00-5:00

"Opening night" is a theatre term, but at Arthur Clausen Antiques you'll sense a similar excitement at an opening "performance" of their English antiques. With each new shipment of antiques, collectors items and fine furnishings, Arthur and Catherine Clausen hold an opening sale, usually on a Thursday night, in the warehouse section of their store. Then the antiques find their way into the shop for an extended run. Among the players are English porcelains, crystal and sterling silver. There is English furniture from many periods; stately antique clocks among them. A specialty at Clausen's is cloisonne — Japanese and Chinese vases and other pieces formed by the painstaking process of filling a design outlined in metal with a myriad of ceramic colours.

Strathcona Antiques

10322A WHYTE AVENUE
433-6358

HOURS: TUESDAY-FRIDAY
12:00 NOON - 5:00
SATURDAY 11:00-5:00

Strathcona Antiques is in transition. The Dominion Hotel, where it is housed on the main floor, is being restored by the Old Strathcona Foundation and will become another of the area's historic sites. For Strathcona Antiques, this has meant relocating until the work is done. While Ron Graham and his antique store may take a bit of finding these days, they are worth the effort. Strathcona Antiques sells and appraises Canadian and American furniture from the turn of the century. It was in this period that North American artisans began making furniture of beauty and lasting quality. You will find roll-top desks, cabinets, bureaus, lamps and the store's specialty, pressback chairs. Strathcona Antiques encourages people living in apartments or small houses to become antique collectors, since the delicacy and compactness of much turn-of-the-century furniture is perfectly suited to intimate spaces.

HOURS: SUNDAYS ONLY
MAY 1 - SEPTEMBER 30 10:00-4:30

As the rhyme goes, Some come here to see or be seen, Some come here to say they have been, Some come here to get out of the cold, And everyone comes to see what's old. Where do they all come? To Mary Goulden's antique shop of course. Mary is an experienced appraiser of antiques, and a member of the London and Provincial Antique Dealers Association. For a reasonable charge she will do a confidential appraisal of your valuables for insurane purposes, family division, loss or damage, or estate sales. In her city store you will find a variety of collectibles: tables, chairs, cabinets, dressers, glassware, books, silverware, jewellery, dolls, and fine art to fit any pocketbook. Mary Goulden is constantly in touch with international markets and buys and sells antiques of every description. She will buy single items or a collection. Take a Sunday trip to Mary's Country Store at Horsehill Hall. At 137 Avenue and 50 Street, drive 7.5 kilometres northeast on Highway 15 to the green Henwood sign; turn right off the highway and immediately left at the fork. Another 2.5 kilometres later, you'll see Mary Goulden's Country Store. Open Sunday only.

Victoria Avenue Antiques — Déjà Vu Art Deco and Antiques

10302 - 121 STREET
488-2421, 488-9048
HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 11:00-6:00
THURSDAY & FRIDAY 'TIL 9:00

These two antique stores recently decided to combine talents and present two collections of antiques in one lovely old house in the Oliver district. As you wander through the house, sometimes accompanied by the resident large, gray cat, you will see fine antiques in each of the main floor rooms. Through their business in the south of England, Jerry Wilson and Ian Harwood of Victoria Avenue Antiques import Victoriana, art deco, fine porcelain and glass. The furniture is mainly oak, with some unusual pieces in burl walnut. Porcelain pieces include Royal Doulton and Worcester. Victoria Avenue also specializes in carnival glass and has a mail-order service with price lists for this popular item. Alex Trahan of Déjà Vu deals in art deco works from that fascinating first period of modernism from around 1910 to 1935. But if pieces from other periods catch his attention, such as early Canadian, Mr. Trahan is quick to add them to the collection. Credit: Visa. MasterCard.

Collectors' Haven Antiques

2ND FLOOR, 10044 - 101 A AVENUE
429-2229

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY
11:00-5:00

Upstairs in an old brick building, Collectors' Haven Antiques is our city centre antique store. The shop, filled to overflowing with collectibles, is a delight to browse through. They have a tremendous variety, with something for every collector: cloissone, champleve, Galle, French patch boxes, porcelain, art glass, Victorian and Edwardian furniture . . . and that's just a sampling. Elsie and Lad Kostash decided the best way to enjoy retirement was to plunge into something new. They run Collectors' Haven simply for the pleasure it gives them. Elsie likes to recall the morning she was in her stockinged feet, arranging a bouquet of lilacs, when Liberace walked in. He stayed for three hours, chatting about lilacs and antiques, sipping coffee, poking around and finding things to take back home. Even if you're not Librace, you'll find flowers, coffee and friendly conversation at Collectors' Haven.

HOURS: TUESDAY-SUNDAY 10:00-5:00

Located about 20 miles west of Edmonton, Unique Antiques offers period furniture along with quality refinishing and restoration work. Here you will find English and Danish furniture from the past 100 years. Usually solid oak or mahogany, these ornately worked pieces have a rich and lasting beauty. Unique Antiques also offers quality reproductions which are well-crafted collector's pieces in their own right. And they'll even deliver outsized pieces. You will also find companion pieces such as brass ornaments and china, cranberry glass and bisque. Of course, antiques need to be cared for, and Unique Antiques is well-known for refinishing and restoring furniture. They can strip away the stains and scratches, fix a broken hinge or replace a missing latch, returning a favourite piece to its original elegance.

Second Time Around

15202 STONY PLAIN ROAD
489-6182

HOURS: MONDAY, WEDNESDAY, FRIDAY, SATURDAY 9:00-5:00
THURSDAY CLOSED

Our heritage is precious so Terry and Alice Craig have taken the trouble to preserve a wonderful world of Canadiana at Second Time Around. Restaurant designers shop here; theatre and TV crews have rented props to help them evoke the past. Coffee tins, stained glass pieces, collectibles, old signs, china, glass, brass and, of course, fine furniture . . . all tell the story of how earlier Canadians lived. The ever-changing stock means your chances are good of eventually finding that special object here. If not, the shop has a "Find It List" and will try to find it for you. If you have things to sell, Second Time Around might decide to purchase them, from one item to an entire estate. They are in touch with collectors all over North America and regularly advertise to buy and sell. Saturdays are noteworthy here, because surprise specials go up at random for that day only. The staff has been known to barter a little, any day. Perhaps the nicest of all is the old-fashioned service. From pick-up and delivery to loading a purchase into your vehicle, to the free-smile signs hanging on the walls, friendliness is always in good supply. That's what keeps collectors and browsers coming back, time and time after time. Credit: Visa. MasterCard.

Cripps Antique Auctions

10807 - 105 AVENUE
425-8558

HOURS: 24 HOUR ANSWERING SERVICE SEVEN DAYS A WEEK 10:00-5:00

Charles Cripps has served Edmontonians for ten years as a professional appraiser and auctioneer. He and his associates will handle all the necessary arrangements for evaluating and then auctioning an estate. An auction can often bring the heirs far more than the appraised value. Many of us would unwittingly throw out, give away or sell items of real value. Mr. Cripps is particularly knowledgeable in appraising art and antiques of both regional and international value. He has lectured at courses on antiques in conjunction with the university, hosted his own QCTV program Antiques Review, and is a member of both the American and International Society of Appraisers. Cripps Antique Auctions will soon begin holding seminars to teach the fundamentals of appraisal to those who may become the executors of an estate. Credit: Visa. MasterCard.

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 9:30-5:30
THURSDAY & FRIDAY 'TIL 9:00

So the story goes, there's a place on one of Edmonton's most intriguing shopping areas, where anyone can uncover something wonderful. A place where one can step into a midnight oil burning mystery, peek into a child's dream, or saunter up to Bach. Almost anything is just a read away at Aspen Books. Owners Jacqueline Vannelli and Gillian McIvor have filled their shelves with carefully chosen books to delight fiction-lover, hobbyist, handyman, poet, and questioner alike. Thanks to Ms. Vannelli's daughter Louise, who took part in the store's supervision during her very first year of life, Aspen Books has one of the best literature selections available on pregnancy, childbirth, and children's stories. Little Louise even ordered a few toys for toddlers to play with while their parents browse. Aspen carries periodicals for the literate such as The New York Review of Books, The New York Times Book Reviews, feminist and even children's periodicals. Of course there is a chance that you may not find the book you're looking for. If so, just make a small deposit towards the purchase price and Aspen Books will order it at no extra charge.

Greenwoods Bookshoppe

10355 WHYTE AVENUE
439-2005

HOURS: SATURDAY, MONDAY, TUESDAY 9:30-5:30
WEDNESDAY-FRIDAY 9:30-9:00

Choosing a book is like meeting a new friend. You want a little time to be introduced; a little time for questions. At Greenwoods Bookshoppe they seem to understand that. Inside south Edmonton's largest independant bookstore, you'll discover a unique environment in which to peruse easy-chair companions. The store itself is part of the newly renovated Tipton Block, built in 1911. The still gracious oak trim and brick walls perpetuate some of that era's charm. Owners, Brad, Laurie and Gail Greenwood have added to that charm by creating a browser's paradise. For instance, they've set aside a lounge area and children's corner amid easy lighting and lush plants. They offer books in over forty subject areas including some exceptional backlisted books and the latest by popular authors. Entertaining suggestions are always offered in the staff choice section. The staff is always ready to help with the search including making institutional and special orders for you. As well, a mailing list is available. Finally, the store has a nice little section of cards, gift wrap and calendars. After all, the best gift for a friend is the gift of a friend — a book.

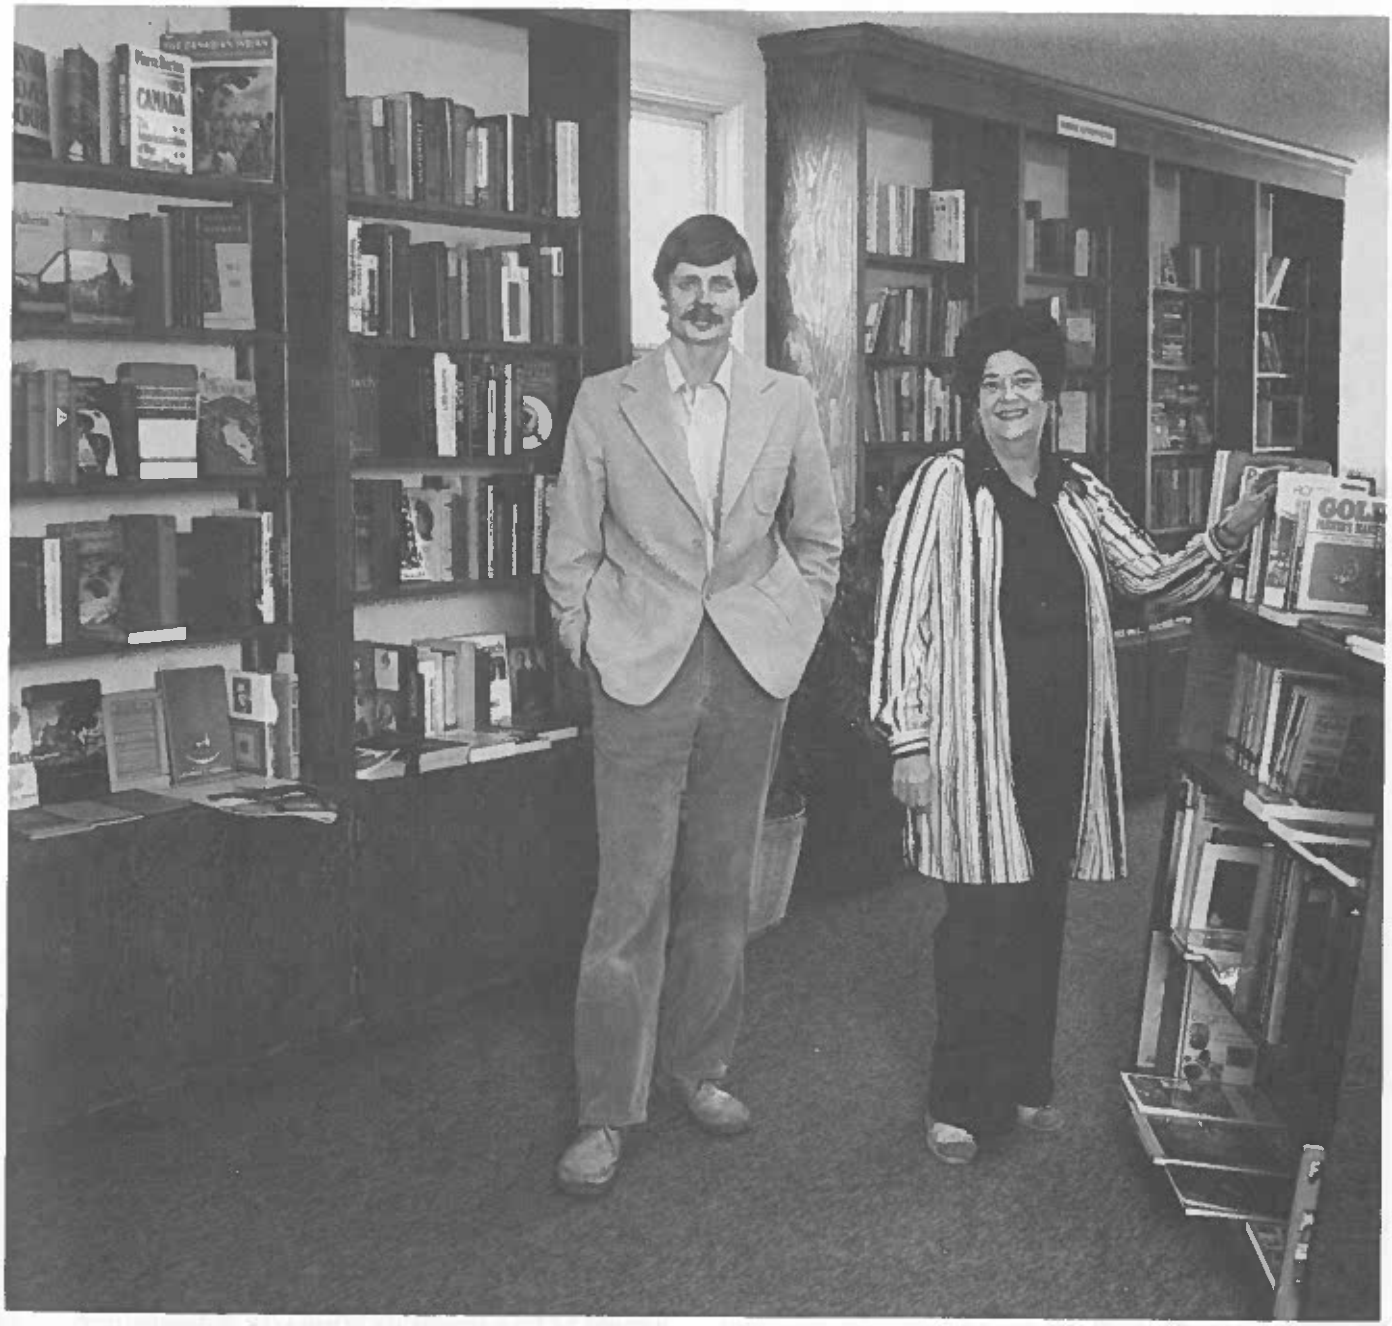
EDMONTON, ALBERTA T5J 1M4
428-9202

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 9:30-5:30
FRIDAY 'TIL 9:00

A member of the French-Canadian Association of Alberta, Le Carrefour provides a variety of French cultural products to Albertans. French books of all kinds can be found here, and most books not in stock can be ordered. In addition, the store also carries French records, cassettes, eight-track tapes, cards and games. Le Carrefour also serves as a distribution centre for the ten regional Carrefours located from Fort McMurray to Lethbridge. Young French language students are carefully looked after with an extensive selection of children's books chosen with particular emphasis on the needs of immersion students. As well, consultation services in children's literature are offered and a specially designed catalogue for schools and libraries will soon be available.



Bjarne's Books

439-7133

HOURS: TUESDAY-FRIDAY 9:00-5:30
THURSDAY 9:00-9:00
SATURDAY 9:30-5:30

Whether searching for an old favourite, now long out of print, or suddenly stumbling on a well preserved antique, used bookstores are one of the pleasures of life. Bjarne's Books rewards the bibliophile with a collection of antiquarian, out-of-print and carefully selected new and second-hand books. They are all displayed in a spacious room amid plants and paintings. If you can't find that title you're looking for, Bjarne's will do their best to locate a copy and notify you when it arrives. About once every other month they have a special exhibit and sale of noteworthy and collectible books. To be invited, just ask to be on their mailing list. Bjarne Tokerud is a knowledgeable appraiser and will gladly evaluate libraries and book collections.

Mike's News (1912)

10163 - 101 STREET
422-2020

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY
7:30 A.M. - 9:30 P.M.

When Edmontonians first started reading newspapers and magazines from Mike's News, the stories they contained were tales of a brave and brand-new century. The year was 1908, and Mike's was in its original location on a Jasper Avenue corner. (Later, in 1912, the business moved to 10062 Jasper, where it remained for sixty-eight years, and in 1980, the newest Mike's News was opened at its present location). In almost three-quarters of a century, during which Mike's has sold a steady stream of newspapers and magazines, a lot of world news has taken place — and it was never more important to keep informed than it is right now. Today's Edmontonians look to Mike's for today's news from all over the world — a complete line of newspapers and magazines to bring readers up to date on places a long way from Jasper Avenue. There are also pocketbooks in profusion, as well as smokers' supplies. Mike's will order a hard-to-get magazine or newspaper for you, and look for back issues of many publications. A complete mail order service, too — to anywhere in on earth.

High Level Book Bindery

10372 - 60 AVENUE
434-1809

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY
6:30 A.M. - 7:00 P.M.

At the High Level Book Bindery, you can judge a book by its cover. Working with the best leathers, gold and silver leaf and skilled embossings, David Halmosi can transform a book into a unique treasure. Mr. Halmosi has been working with books since he was 15 years old. He first began his business in a garage near the High Level Bridge before setting up in his present location. The bindery does any and all types of binding . . . re-binding for individuals and institutions (including the University of Alberta, the University of Victoria and NAIT), leather menu covers, bound sets of periodicals and specially made photo albums. When Prince Charles visited the Northwest Territories, the bindery prepared three photo albums for the Prince, the Queen Mother and for the people they met there. Mr. Halmosi is also one of only two craftsmen in western Canada who does the demanding and skillful work of old book restoration.

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 9:30-5:30
THURSDAY 'TIL 9:00

Canadiana Galleries was established in 1960 in a downtown building which at various times housed a meat market, a Chinese restaurant, and a lamp store. In the craft gallery, all media by Canadian craftsmen are represented. In the upstairs gallery, Canadian painters, etchers, printmakers and ceramic artists display their masterpieces. The Inuit gallery displays sculpture, prints, artifacts and fibre art from all communities. Regular exhibitions are held throughout the year. Here, you can admire a wide selection of handmade jewellery, pottery and glassware, and a variety of native crafts such as beadwork, moccasins, mukluks, quill work including moose-hair tufting, masks, argelite totem poles, and Indian hand-knit sweaters, toques, socks and mitts. Some very important people, including Lorne Green, Jack Benny, Judy LaMarsh, Beverly Sills and Maureen Forrester, have crossed the threshold of the gallery to purchase souvenirs. Queen Elizabeth was presented with one on the occasion of her visit to the Commonwealth Games. Sequoia Gallery

428-8330

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 10:00-5:30
THURSDAY 'TIL 9:00

Named after the famous redwood, Sequoia Gallery captures the California spirit in downtown Edmonton. It seeks to recreate the innovative atmosphere of California galleries by presenting a beautiful collection of arts and crafts from across North America. Pottery from Alberta combines with elegant redwood tables and chairs from California. Alberta free-blown glass can be found next to wooden pieces carved in Oregon. Fabric art from Western Canadian artists is featured alongside jewellery from Tibet. Lovely water-colours adorn the walls. Fine porcelains, handmade glass, stoneware, lamps, mugs and pots, wooden boxes and miniature paintings, stained glass murals and wildflower plaques complete the display of handcrafted items. Special orders are accepted on ceramics and textiles. Located in the heart of downtown, a few steps away from all major hotels and half a block south of the Edmonton Centre, Sequoia specializes in decorative accessories and unusual gifts for every occasion.

Lady of The Glass

10721A - 124 STREET
452-8637
HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 9:00-5:00

Five years ago, Brenda Malkinson-Powell began a collector's series of stained glass works entitled, Ladies in Glass. The most recent addition, Lady of the Masquerade, was exhibited in 1978 at the Commonwealth Games. Named after this series, Lady of The Glass approaches creation in stained glass as an art. No ready-made patterns are used, as each panel is a one-only collector's piece. Lady of The Glass works mainly as a commission studio to design and craft stained glass windows for architects, interior designers, private residences, restaurants and churches. The studio's work is part of numerous corporate collections, including a piece commissioned by the Massey Foundation of Ottawa. The shop's gallery exhibits works for sale, as well as supplies for the hobbyist. Lady of The Glass offers both beginning and advanced classes in the art of stained glass panels.

452-8671
HOURS: TUESDAY-SATURDAY 10:00-6:00

10561 - 111 STREET
423-4170
HOURS: TUESDAY-FRIDAY 11:00-5:00

Only the most careful and skilled hands can form the serene beauty of a Ming Tree. And here, the glass-craft has been mastered. The studio is devoted to custom designed glass works for both residential and commercial uses. Studio manager Bill Milligan and designer Joey Milligan have created a place that offers a rainbow of handcrafted stained glass and sandblasted glass items. Work done by the studio includes leaded or foiled stained glass lamps and window panels, sandblasted mirrors and panels; and smaller items such as jewellery boxes, terrariums and picture frames. Examples of their work include special Tiffany lamps, wall terrariums and stained glass clocks. Individual design consultation is stressed at Ming Tree; a brochure provides information on commissioned work. Other services include delivery, installation and a repair service on stained glass work. Instruction is also offered for those interested in doing their own. Ask for a brochure on the courses. Summer day seminars are held May through August. Ten-week evening courses are offered in September and February. As well, a complete line of books, glass and tools for the hobbyist can be found here. Hughes Gift Gallery

425-8851

HOURS: MONDAY, TUESDAY, SATURDAY 9:30-5:30
WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, FRIDAY 9:30-9:00

Hughes Gift Gallery is a place for the discriminating shopper. As the name suggests, it is something between a gift shop and an art gallery. It specializes in western Canadian art and handcrafted works; especially signed, numbered and registered jade sculptures by Canadian artists. On permanent display is the Great Northern Bear worth $75,000, the largest known jade sculpture in North America. A wide variety of paintings is also featured, by Cecil James, Dorothy Oxborough, Susan Ford, Andrew Reilmann, and other known and unknown western Canadian artists. Co-owners Claudette and Laurie Hughes invite you to examine Indian prints by Clemence Wescoupe, Gary Meeches and Doris Cyrette. At the same time have a look at a superb collection of Alberta pottery and some exceptionally pretty Ukrainian Easter eggs. The Hughes Gift Gallery is tucked away in a quiet corner on the fashion level at Edmonton Centre. Credit; Visa. MasterCard.

Calico Country Store

454-2601

HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 10:00-4:30
THURSDAY 'TIL 9:00
SATURDAY 10:00-5:00

Back in 1975, three Edmonton homemakers with a common love for an old-fashioned hobby — quilting — got together and began selling their creations at art galleries, antique fairs and craft shops. Customers loved them . . . they are warm, colourful and inevitably nostalgic. So it wasn't long before patchwork and other quilted items from Hearthside Crafts found their way to larger stores, and to craft shops all across Canada. Just as quilted items caught on, so did quilting catch on as a hobby, and Hearthside founders became teachers. In another innovative move, Hearthside began to manufacture plastic templates that allow hobbyists to exactly duplicate complex traditional patterns. Now a large and still-growing concern, Hearthside has opened the Calico Country Store, a retail outlet which supplies everything for the quilter, including hard-to-find small print fabrics, books, patterns, and plastic templates. There are also patchwork quilts, chair pads, pillows and pot holders, baby toys, dolls and bags. Calico Country Store also stocks VIP and Ely Walker calico prints, and carries the widest range of broadcloth colours in Canada. Quilting expertise is what Calico Country is all about. They supply everything from the ideas, to the makings, to the finished product, all for your own future heirlooms.

Ries Knotique & Weavery

4611 - 99 STREET
EDMONTON, ALBERTA T5E 4Y1
436-7434

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 10:00-5:30

Over 200 types of yarn are on display in this weaver's paradise, ranging from elegant Japanese silks to luxurious chenilles from Germany. They also carry one of the most impressive collections of top quality looms you'd ever hope to find. Leclerc, Glimakra, Ahrens and Violette Dobby looms . . . all precision equipment to enable you to explore a variety of weaving traditions, techniques and materials. And there's more . . . drum carders, hand carders, and spinning wheels, everything for the professional and hobby weaver as well as the discriminating knitter. Combined with the woolshop is the 1000 square foot Gallery of Pottery exhibiting mostly functional pieces such as casseroles, plates, goblets, planters, bowls and coffee mugs. Presiding over this artistic haven is owner manager Monica Ries who has been weaving for years and loving every minute of it. A highly regarded artist, she has created numerous pieces of woven art for commercial and private collections. Her services include custom commission for weaving or knitting, giving you a rundown on instruction classes, and taking your mail orders. This store is a veritable treasure trove for all serious craft lovers to explore.

Angèle Candles

4 RAYBORN CRESCENT
ST. ALBERT, ALBERTA T8N 3C7
458-6330
HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 8:00-4:30

There's something magic about candlelight. It can reveal sparkling eyes, a gentle quiet and the soft edges of a room. Candles can highlight any occasion, any decor, any place, any time. All the enchantments of this wax-craft can be found at Angèle Candles. Angèle Gregoire and her husband-partner Wendell Couture, have developed a hobby into a business with glowing results. From Angèle's love of decorative candles came the desire to create. Now, she supervises the work of almost two dozen candle-makers who produce high gloss, transluscent, refillable, non-drip decor candles. Angèle mixes the wax herself, using the finest imported materials. Then, using a very ordinary variety of molds including juice cans, vases and sherbet dishes, her highly skilled employees take over. Over 200 styles and colour combinations are sold here, all by hand. No two are ever alike. Styles include very innovative hanging and modernistic styles. Special order colour combinations are available in any style depending on quantity ordered. Mail order brochures are available on request but a visit to the store in Riel Business Park is even more enlightening.

Handworks Gallery

10802 - 124 STREET
452-1010

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY
10:00 A.M. - 5:30 P.M.
THURSDAY 'TIL 9:00

Once upon a time a male potter met a female weaving instructor. They fell in love, married, and, finding themselves without jobs, rented a vacant store to explore their fields, and eventually to display and sell their own handicrafts. Ron and Gail Douglas remember with nostalgia those first days seven years ago. Armed with an investment capital of $500 and no business or retailing experience, they solicited handiworks from friends to sell on consignment. In a good month they took home $250 between them. Things have improved considerably since then, but the gallery is still in its original location, which has now become fashionably artsy. It still carries the excellent selection of handmade gifts that took them from poverty to solvency: pottery, baskets, toys, jewellery, fine stationery, prints, and kitchen and home accessories. This is a place to check for that special gift for a special person, made by another special person — a handicraft artist proud to work with his hands. These days Ron is busy making his own pottery and Gail is busy painting and looking after their daughter, but the gallery is flourishing, and its selection of lovely handmade objects has never been better.

Strawberry Patch Gifts and Crafts

8424 - 109 STREET
439-0131

HOURS: TUESDAY-SATURDAY 10:00-5:30
THURSDAY 'TIL 9:00

In the summer you will find strawberries planted outside the door, but inside the Strawberry Patch expect to find almost anything. This intriguing store, located in a renovated apartment, has a warm, homey atmosphere amid its rooms of handicrafts. Lynne Gibbon and Dan Dunnigan have filled it with crafts and artworks, including work by local artists. You'll find one-of-a-kind items in pottery, silver and enamelled jewellery, weaving, stained glass, dolls, and dried flower arrangements. If you want something in particular, they can order work specially from their artists. Be sure to browse through the back room with its selection of toys and things for children. And take a look at their vintage Canadian cash register, which can ring up no more than $15.99 a sale.

Christl's Art and Other Things

10922 - 88 AVENUE
432-7501

HOURS: TUESDAY-SATURDAY 11:00-5:30

An artist's studio is an ever-changing place where fantasy stretches and curls in the corners and imagination roams from window to wall. And here at Christl's, the artist's studio is open to all. Named after its owner, Christl Bergstrom, it is a studio, a drop-in place for local artists and artisans, and a gallery. Local arts and crafts, selected according to Christl's own taste, include the ephemeral, the playful and the outrageous. Paintings, jewellery, soft sculpture and handmade objects are offered on a completely irregular basis, with imagination and quality of execution the chief criteria. A visitor may be offered Christl's own pencil drawings, Mrs. Bergstrom's tea cozys and copper enamel; hand knit sweaters; and funky, flashy, objects like Fantasy Design's mobiles and pins, Skookum art glass, Edibaubles, Jetson Jewels, Angel International T-shirts and provocative cards. The idea for this place started with Christl's search for a studio. She decided that a larger space than she needed could afford other artists a place to exchange products and ideas . . . hence the development of one of the most unusual stores in Edmonton.

#110 ST. ALBERT CENTRE
ST. ALBERT
458-8977
HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 10:00-10:00
SATURDAY 9:30-6:00

Traditional art forms like your grandmother's embroidery are enjoying a terrific revival! The Craft Shack offers creative projects to challenge each imagination and every pair of hands. A business that started out on a shoe string, The Craft Shack earned its name from the simulated cedar shakes that provided the warm decor of the first store. The expanded version, with branches in Londonderry Mall and St. Albert Centre, boasts skeins of assorted wools in a multitude of assorted colours. Popular kits, patterns and ideas for knitting, crochet, rug hooking and embroidery abound. Other esoteric hobbies can be learned too. They offer classes in such rare skills as paper tole, figure draping, flower-making and arranging, and Christmas crafts and decorations. What is home spun? A bit of the old — a bit of the new, adding up to the wonderful atmosphere at The Craft Shack.

WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY,
FRIDAY 10:00-9:00

If you like unique jewellery, there's a family business in the marble foyer of the Continental Bank Building you should visit. Vandenberg's is a total service jewellery store offering appraisal service, jewellery repair, and investment consulting, in addition to an impressive potpourri of gold jewellery: rings, pendants, necklaces, chains, watches, assorted loose stones and accessories. The house specialties are coloured stones and coloured stone jewellery. Ralph Vandenberg, who manages the store with his brother Richard, is a Los Angeles-trained gemologist who enjoys exotic stones and is in his element creating jewellery around them. With a rough stone and a piece of raw gold he can create something enchanting. As a result, Vandenberg's is a place to go for people who want something out of the ordinary, something they can help design with the help of custom design services. No request is too small or too large. They will gladly answer any questions about precious stones or the jewellery industry. They also hold exhibitions and sales of museum class gemstones throughout the year.

HOURS: MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY, FRIDAY 10:00-6:00
THURSDAY 10:00-8:00
SATURDAY 10:00-5:30

Since the time of the pharoahs, silversmiths have been fashioning silver into cherished pieces of art. Ian Medland and his wife, Libby Graham, are members of that rare breed of artisan. Their store is one of the very few places in town where silver is custom designed. Even though the high price of gold has re-kindled an interest in their specialty, they realize not everyone prefers silver. So, they have filled their showcases with an array of originally designed jewellery for those with a passion for silver, gold, precious and semi-precious gems and stones alike. A treasure selected from these cases means an acquisition as unique as the artist's vision. If you wish to see a particular dream take shape in silver or gold, tell Ian or Libby what you want. They'll discuss ideas, design, technical problems and then design the item to your satisfaction. All workmanship at The Silversmith is guaranteed. And you needn't be shy about asking for the unusual. Libby and Ian have moulded precious metal into fly swatters, tooth-picks, and horseshoes. In fact, with their expertise, it wouldn't be surprising to find that they're the ones responsible for all that cloud lining.

Adamas Goldsmiths

#72 MEADOWLARK SHOPPING CENTRE
489-5755
HOURS: MONDAY, TUESDAY, SATURDAY 9:30-5:30
WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, FRIDAY 9:30-9:00

A fine jewellery store, Adamas provides goldsmith services on the premises, along with jewellery repair, gemstone setting and custom designing. A large assortment of ready-made fine jewellery is also displayed: diamond engagement and wedding ring sets, dress rings for men and women, and a variety of accessories: lapel pins, cufflinks, money clips, brooches, pearls and loose diamonds. A lifetime guarantee is extended on all diamond rings. Co-owner Barry Tough has spent many years studying business administration in Edmonton, and gemology through the facilities of the Gemological Institute of America in Los Angeles. His partner Robert Arychuk is a fully qualified goldsmith and diamond setter, with many years of experience in the industry. At Adamas, cleaning a ring (free of charge) means more than just putting it in a cleaning solution. They brush and buffet equipment to remove any scratches from the surface, bathe it in ultrasonic cleaner and then it is steamed to remove any particles from underneath the stones. Fine products and fine service are at your disposal at Adamas.

Falcon Art

#209 - 10080 JASPER AVENUE
EDMONTON, ALBERTA T5J 1V9
429-2196

HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 9:00-4:30

As a falcon captures its prey, so does gold capture the imagination. The metal's iridescent yellow fire has caught fast the art of many cultures. Here, at Falcon Art, glorious gold creations will catch your heart's desire. Goldsmith and designer Peter McKay will create golden dreams in any karat, in almost any form, to your specifications. Executive vice-president in charge of production, Melody Riddell, can help you form your wishes into one-of-a-kind jewellery. Don't hesitate to bring in your favourite object to be mounted in or surrounded by gold. If you have something precious that needs repair, bring it here as well. Perhaps the special adornment you seek is already made. Occasionally other hand-crafted jewellery is available in a variety of coveted materials including diamonds, a spectrum of precious and semi-precious stones and platinum. Whatever you choose, you are assured of a delicate, finely crafted piece of art you'll always enjoy. Just call for an appointment. Bring your dreams and let your imagination take flight.

B.D. Blower and Associates
Gemological Laboratory

#302 - McLEOD BUILDING
428-9655
HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 9:00-5:00

B.D. Blower and Associates take pride in offering what they believe to be the finest jewellery appraisal laboratory in Edmonton. In fact, Barry Blower, a graduate gemologist and president of the company, has had the pleasure of appraising jewels for royalty. He also lectures on jewellery and the art of appraising. His laboratory specializes in appraisals for insurance purposes and in consulting work on any aspect of the industry. The work performed is precise, experienced, methodical and caring. Private appointments can be arranged upon request. B.D. Blower and Associates is Edmonton's first independent jewellery appraisal house, centrally located in one of the oldest standing structures in the city, the McLeod Building. Credit: Visa. Mr. Donovan Apparel

428-9119

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 9:30-5:30
THURSDAY 'TIL 9:00

Just south of Jasper Avenue, on 104 Street, is a beautiful brown 30-foot canopy entrance surrounded by gas lanterns and five full feature windows. It is the home of a well-established women's fashion store run by a family who has been in merchandising in Edmonton for four generations. An exquisite foyer adorned with accessories branches off into several intimate enclaves housing separate departments of sportswear, coats and suits, ultra suede and after-five cocktail and long gowns. Mr. Donovan carries a full range of sizes from 4 to 18. For designer clothing with a classic look and fine tailoring, Mr. Donovan is hard to beat. Personalized assistance and full alteration staff are at your disposal. The gift wrap department offers its services free of charge and gift certificates are available. Every spring and fall you can catch a lunch-time in-store fashion show, when models showing the new line informally spin among the customers.

Shillington Furs

FOYER, FOUR SEASONS HOTEL
10235 - 101 STREET
426-1802

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 9:30-5:30
THURSDAY & FRIDAY 'TIL 9:00

Shillington Furs aims to make Edmonton men and women into true fashion trend setters.
Conveniently located in the lobby of the downtown Four Seasons Hotel, their exclusive offerings include Russian Sable, Russian Silver Fox, Russian Broadtail, Russian Fitch, Canadian Lynx, Swakara's and Alaskan Seal coats. That enviable standby, the mink coat, is not forgotten either. A variety of both ranch and wild mink furs is offered. Men, especially the travelling kind, are invited to examine the selection of fur coats, fur knitted sweaters, ponchos and pullovers. Many of these fashion pieces have hats to match, and there is a two-year warranty on all furs. Brigitte Jackson, Shillington's managing co-owner, learned her trade in West Germany, and welcomes any inquiries about the making of fur garments or preserving precious furs. Consultation is by appointment to ensure that the customer receives full attention to his or her needs. The uncompromising Edmonton winter has met its match: an equally exacting fur treasure house.

June's House of Fashion

11302 - 100 AVENUE
488-7277

HOURS: TUESDAY-SATURDAY 9:30-5:30
THURSDAY 'TIL 9:00

In the first decade of this century a prominent Alberta judge built a two-storey brick mansion close to but slightly away from the hustle and bustle of the downtown area. Seventy-five years later, his residence, lovingly restored, houses a fashion store famous for its sportswear and dresses. The management and staff help customers coordinate a wardrobe in a leisurely, warm and friendly atmosphere. Suits, coats and dresses by exclusive European and American designers go hand in hand with a complete line of accessories: handbags, belts, jewellery, scarfs, and a unique gift department which offers everything from paper products to Gucci perfumes and Lalique crystal. Definitely the very best of contemporary fashion offered in a setting evoking old-world elegance. The coffee pot is always on and parking is available at the rear of the store.

Harper's Fashions

10305 JASPER AVENUE
426-5092
HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 9:30-5:30
FRIDAY 'TIL 9:00

Making Edmonton women the best dressed anywhere is the aim of Harper's Fashions, recently moved to their new location on Jasper Avenue. Harper's knows what makes a woman beautiful. It aims to keep one jump ahead with the latest finds from fashion capitals. It carries the best of Canadian-designed clothing, as well as creations from Paris, London, Rome and New York: suits, coats, dresses, and separates, by Iriving Samuels, Auckie Sanft and others. Christian Dior's originals merit a special section in the shop. Le Pantie from Paris matches wool pants and silk blouses. Sizes range from 4 to 16. Two expert tailors and seamstresses are always on duty. The shop itself is designed to blend with the exquisite world of high fashion. The second level has an attractively lighted archway; the third level has a sunken sitting area for relaxing and watching your own private showing of high fashion, with a cup of coffee or a cool drink. At Harper's the best of Canadian and foreign couturiers nicely blend with the best of interior design.

Michael's Fine Shoes

PRINCIPAL PLAZA
10307 JASPER AVENUE
420-6153

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 9:00-5:30
THURSDAY 'TIL 9:00

Centrally located in Principal Plaza, Michael's Fine Shoes is Edmonton's fashion store for women's footwear and handbags. Michael's features leading designer lines, such as Bruno Magli, PanCaldi, Charles Jourdan, Halston, Anne Klein and other European imports. These lines can only be found in the better stores of New York, Paris, London and Rome and now Edmonton. Michael's owners, with many years experience in buying fashion footwear, travel to these world capitals searching for the latest trends. Michael's also offers the finest in handbags to be coordinated with footwear for that enviable pulled-together look. This is where to get exquisite boots from Spain and Italy. Not only does Michael's match the best shoes available in Western Canada, the staff have many years of experience in fitting and style counselling. Featuring narrow and medium widths, Michael's offers the shopper a lot to choose from. You haven't shopped in Edmonton, until you've tried Michael's.

Henry Singer Ladies

STANDARD LIFE BUILDING
10405 JASPER AVENUE
423-6868

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 9:00-5:30
THURSDAY & FRIDAY 'TIL 9:00
SUMMER CLOSING ON FRIDAY 6:00

Sometimes a woman feels like grey silk, other times like butterscotch suede. Then there are times like soft mauve chiffon. For all the days and hours, for all the moods of a woman, there is Henry Singer. Henry Singer is a name long associated with particularly fine men's clothing. But now it's not only a men's store. At least not this part. Henry Singer Ladies is a brand new store in a brand new building. They still feature the same famous excellent service that has always pleased male customers, but here you'll also find all the fashions to match your style. The finest quality imported and domestic garments will flatter and fit. Petite women receive extra attention here because the shop specializes in smaller sizes. Still, there is a beautiful selection for city women of almost all types from such lines as: Anne Klein, Aquascutum, B.O.F., Pierre Balmain, Daks, New Man, Polo by Ralph Lauren, Irving Samuel and others. Whether you need clothes for business, travel or play, Henry Singer Ladies take the time to help you find something that's just right. And that's a good feeling. We welcome the American Express card. Petite Boutique

CONTINENTAL BANK BUILDING
10250 - 101 STREET
426-2759

HOURS: MONDAY, TUESDAY, SATURAY
9:30-5:30
WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, FRIDAY
9:30-9:00

80 McKENNEY AVENUE
ST. ALBERT
458-0222

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 9:30-6:00
THURSDAY & FRIDAY 'TIL 9:00

Petite Boutique is, as the name suggests, dedicated to the needs of women whose size and height is less than average. In fashion industry terminology, "petite" refers to garments cut shorter from below the arm length to the waist. The hemline is also shorter, enabling heavier but shorter women to be outfitted comfortably and stylishly. Owner Jeannine Johnson is petite. She was so annoyed at not being able to find appropriate clothing that she took matters into her own hands and opened the St. Albert boutique in 1979. It proved so popular she opened another store in the Continental Bank Building downtown two years later. All petite clothing in both stores is marked by an appropriate tag to distinguish the smaller articles from the moderate selection of regular size apparel also on display. Sizes range from 3 to 14. Staff at both stores offer personal attention and assistance with fittings. Small is indeed beautiful.

B. Tippetts

10428 JASPER AVENUE
425-1466
HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 9:30-5:30
THURSDAY 'TIL 9:00

A true boutique, B. Tippetts operates on a premise that clothing is only one visual aspect of a total lifestyle. It offers an environment where clothing, decor and fixtures work in harmony and balance. Bronze foo-lions standing guard on marble pedestals lead to a gray and peach interior, with black lacquer furniture and brass fixtures. This immaculate background is complemented by quality clothing of equally exciting, innovative design, made mostly from natural fibres by outstanding European and Canadian designers. Original paintings by Edmonton artist Graham Peacock top off the unique atmosphere of luxury. You can top off your wardrobe with leather and snakeskin belts, silk scarfs and lingerie, and an assortment of silver and vermeil jewellery imported from California. While you attend to your attire in one of the large mirrored fitting rooms, your companions can relax with a cup of tea or coffee in one of the comfortable seating areas. A more perfect combination of quality clothing and quality ambience would be hard to find.

LETISHA'S: 482-4896

HOURS: MONDAY-WEDNESDAY
10:00-5:30
THURSDAY 10:00-8:00
SATURDAY 10:00-5:00
FRIDAY 10:00-6:00
SUMMER HOURS: FRIDAY 10:00-8:00

How long have you been yearning to slip into a pair of real silk stockings or secretly wished to own a vampish black hat? Kathryn's & Letisha's can make your fantasies come true. The store provides a warm welcome environment. In the antique-lined shop you feel you belong from the moment you walk through the door. Original garments are designed right here and fabrics from Italy and France give them that continental appeal. Exclusive knitwear from Sweden, Denmark and Iceland is breathtaking. Jeans, jump suits, leather goods, coats, jackets and pants are available in a complete range of sizes. A large selection of millinery, evening wear, swim wear, silk stockings and garter belts make shopping exciting. After you browse, it's fun to relax in Letisha's Salon in the rear of the store! While you sit, Letisha will build beautiful ceramic nails onto your own. The woman who walks out of Kathryn's & Letish's may not be a perfect ten but she sure feels it.

Great Canadian Short Story

10332 - 81 AVENUE
433-6269

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 9:30-6:30
THURSDAY 'TIL 9:00

Petite women have long suffered in junior cut clothes, too long jackets and too big hems. Here, though, they're big on little with lines that gracefully respect the small frame. Most lines carried are from Canadian designers; many exclusive to the store. Soft and sultry, sophisticated and sporty fashions here favour frames sized 2 to 10. The diminutive may drape themselves in such wonderful creations as handwoven garments from Zonda Nellis, soft handpainted P'koka silks, Adagio silk lingerie, original Margareta silks, Christine and Co. designer skirts, blouses, camisoles and dresses; the head-to-toe, total look of Charles Thompson; and fashions of an oriental flair by Cydney Mar. For that finishing touch, the store offers famous designer jewellery and accessories. If even this remarkable selection doesn't have what you had in mind, the store will custom order for you. For an eyeful of ideas, look for designer's fashion shows in the store. All in all, if you're tiny . . . you can look to this place for a fitting complement. Credit: Visa. MasterCard.

The Finishing Touch

262 FASHION LEVEL EDMONTON CENTRE
420-6111

HOURS: MONDAY, TUESDAY, SATURDAY 9:30-5:30
WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, FRIDAY 9:30-9:00

When does a simple suit become a chic outfit? When it's combined with appropriate accessories. Accessories is what Finishing Touch is all about — fine quality and up to date accessories for women who care. The store has a fabulous collection of scarfs by Vera, Echo, Casharelle, and Anne Klein, and an equally impressive selection of belts, which can be adjusted on the spot to fit your size. Purses, gloves, umbrellas, evening bags, perfumes, hair accessories, and dozens of other small items indispensable to fashion conscious women make their home here. The store will try to order special items you may otherwise spend weeks looking for . . . a purse to match your coat or belt in an odd size. Finishing Touch advises women on how to make the best of their accessories and helps men choose gifts for their wives, mothers and sweethearts. Here, you can also find literature on scarf tying and purse care. The staff makes presentations to clubs and associations, and from time to time offers classes on building and updating your wardrobe. There is a right way to put it all together, and Finishing Touch gives you a helping hand.

Maria's Fashion Place

10634 - 124 STREET
482-6221

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 10:00-6:00
THURSDAY & FRIDAY 'TIL 9:00

Maria Jung has been designing dresses for 23 years. In her native Korea she had her own manufacturing company. Now, she operates out of a renovated three-storey walkup she shares with a photographer's studio, a cake decorating shop, and a clothes resale shop. Maria's assistants are several Korean seamstresses whose expertise and attention to detail would be hard to match. Together, the team dreams up perfections for brides which can be viewed every year at the Edmonton Bridal Fair. Ten to 20 dresses are always on display to give prospective brides a feel for what kind of design they might like. The shop carries gowns by outstanding American and European designers. For those not satisfied with choosing off the rack, Maria will design something special, for a wedding or for any other occasion. A young lady can choose a wedding gown and a veil, a going away outfit, and everything for the bridesmaids and other female members of the wedding party at this one-stop bridal shop.

FALL '81 10150 - 122 STREET
HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 8:30-5:30
THURSDAY 'TIL 9:00
SATURDAY 8:30-1:00

Sig Plach is a master couturier who has been serving Edmonton women for 20 years. He firmly believes that clothing, if chosen wisely, is an investment. Sig custom designs and makes apparel for women of all walks of life. Making frequent trips to Europe, Sig purchases fabrics and exchanges ideas in fashion trends with leading European designers. A couture selection of imported fabrics, each in limited quantities, is available for purchase. Special orders can be made from sample catalogues with brand name textiles: woolens from England, France and Germany, and laces, cottons and silks from Switzerland, Italy and France. Those who sew will delight in the display of fabrics. Sig Plach and his staff offer professional advice on suitable designs for special occasions, and will help with wardrobe planning to enhance individual tastes, and needs. The career woman, the travelling woman or the about-to-be-married woman can shop with confidence at Sig Plach's store. In the fall of 1981, Sig Plach is moving to a renovated older house in the Oliver district on 122 Street, just north of Jasper Avenue. It's a sure thing that fashion conscious women will follow Sig and his staff there.

SUMMER: CLOSE FRIDAY AT 6:00

It would be impossible to write about Henry Singer Limited without first writing about the man. Henry Singer was Mr. Edmonton! In his day he served as president of the Eskimos and the United Appeal. Henry was interested in music, sports and black & white photography. A man who was a local legend in his own time, he was responsible for providing a superior selection of quality men's clothing. Canada's finest clothing manufacturers are still represented in the classic shop in the Birks building, including a made-to-measure suit and jacket selection from Warren K. Cook and Hardy Amies. A peek into Henry Singer's windows makes a stroll down Jasper Avenue worthwhile. Artfully displayed coats, slacks, shoes and accessories impress even the casual passerby. But to really appreciate you must walk through the door and take in the atmosphere. Then enjoy the exceptional service and tasteful fashion suggestions. We can all look forward to a new Henry Singer Sportswear store opening in the Fall. Both stores will welcome the American Express card.

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 9:30-5:30
THURSDAY 'TIL 9:00

Clothes may not make the man but they certainly make an impression. Well cut lines and soft colours speak of an elegant casualness just as vibrant shades and co-ordinating ensembles show zest and eagerness. Here, it is understood that your lifestyle reflects your style of clothes and vice versa. Named after one of the world's best dressed men, the store is a place that can help you look your best. Owners John Windwick and Barry Hislop, whose first names also inspired the store's name, have gathered a selection of clothes to really suit you. Foremost, the store is one of the very few outlets for Warren K. Cook styles. They also carry suits by Samuelsohn and Dak's; shirts by Christian Dior and Cline & Company; slacks by Dak's, Tailor's Bench and Kiethmoor; sweaters by Lyle Scott of Scotland and Jaeger; and imported leathers and raincoats. A full third of the business is devoted to special order and made-to-measure. The store has developed a large clientele from B.C. and across Canada, and attracts customers from as far away as South Africa and Rodeo Drive in Beverly Hills. Customers become friends whose opinions and needs merit careful attention. It's a store with that kind of style.

HOURS: MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY, FRIDAY 9:30-5:30
THURSDAY 9:30-7:30
SATURDAY 9:30-4:30

Mention the Yellow Brick Road to some folks and they see the Wizard of Oz. Others immediately think of an Elton John record. But many men associate the Yellow Brick Road with expert hairstyling and exceptional service. In fact, Yellow Brick Road Men's Hairstyling Limited is the secret getaway every man dreams of. The moment the customer steps through the door he becomes king. The dark wood interior is richly enhanced by assorted antiques, plants, a pool table, a piano and a gramaphone that actually works. Norman Rockwell prints line the walls and the nostalgic atmosphere is made even more inviting by attractive and friendly female stylists. As if that weren't enough, Yellow Brick Road specializes in flattering cuts, waves, body perms and treatments. It's the combination of both, the inviting atmosphere and a job well-done, that keeps pampered and pleased gentlemen coming back for more.

Businesses are like people, some seem to grow up with inherent class. It would be a shame if any visitor or resident of Edmonton did not become acquainted with Ken Higham. In the heart of the primary clothing shopping district, Ken Higham has developed and maintained an unmatchable reputation. This business is owned and operated by the Higham family. Perhaps this is the reason for the personal interest and attention given each person who visits. The attire is classic, featuring outstanding creations from fine Canadian and selected European fashion houses. The timelessness of each garment has helped develop a loyal clientele. Ken Higham himself believes that a person need not have an extensive wardrobe to be well dressed, only that he or she chooses quality. Superior clothing enhances the wearer both mentally and physically. This philosophy along with extra services and attention makes Ken Higham a fashion favourite.

For everything there is a season, but for leather every season is special! The Leather Place stocks all that is beautiful and fashionable. Twelve months a year customers can shop for leather and suede garments, smooth and sleek leather luggage, handbags in a variety of shades and styles, belts, attache cases and wallets . . . leather accessories for every purpose. But what really catches your eye in The Leather Place is the incredible outer wear. From a cranberry red ultra suede suit for the lady to matching motorcycle jackets and pants for him-and-her shoppers, many different tastes are accommodated at The Leather Place. Bomber jackets have become a popular item and each fall there is a fine selection of fur-trimmed leather, suede and sheepskin coats to choose from. Many of these stylish wrap ups are Canadian-made, others are imported from Europe. All garments have one thing in common . . . impeccable style. They make the wearer feel great just by slipping an arm through a sleeve. An alterations service is available too, making it all the more tempting to take a fashion fling at The Leather Place.

Small Indulgence

#124, 10120 JASPER AVENUE
424-6636

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 11:30-5:30

Every summer, Edmontonians celebrate their history by shedding the garb of modern times and dressing up the way their ancestors did. If you are one who enjoys treasures of the past or unique clothing, Small Indulgence is the place for you. The shop features clothing from the late 1880s to the early 1950s. Even a few mini skirts from the 1960s can be found. The wide selection of vintage clothing for men and women include Hawaiian and western shirts, beaded sweaters and dresses, petticoats, camisoles, flapper dresses, shoes, hats, and knick-knacks. There is always fine costume jewellery to top off an outfit. Small Indulgence specializes in rare turn-of-the-century apparel; one can always find a couple of silk shawls or silk kimonos and a wedding dress or two. No wonder the store has catered to theatre groups and visiting musical bands. Small Indulgence is located on the second floor of the Old Commerce Building — a small entranceway under a yellow canopy over the sidewalk. It's a little hard to find but well worth the effort.

Hair Line International

10126 - 121 STREET
482-2423 OR 488-8431

HOURS: MONDAY-WEDNESDAY 9:00-6:00
THURSDAY & FRIDAY 9:00-9:00
SATURDAY 8:00-4:00

Today's varied hairstyles more than ever require the touch of a talented, creative hand. Max Gartner and Hans Braun, partners of Hair Line International, are expert hair stylists — you might even say world-renowned. They have practiced their art throughout Europe, the Middle East and now here in Canada. Both men and their staff of talented collaborators aim for a total look where hairstyles are matched to lifestyles. Located in an attractive old house, that the two partners remodeled themselves, the imaginative decor attests to the importance they place on stimulating surroundings. Hair Line International carries all major beauty products, many of which are designed to solve specific problems. Satisfied customers of both sexes are walking testimony for the team of talented stylists at Hair Line International.

Mane Stop Hair Design

CENTENNIAL BUILDING
10017 - 103 AVENUE
429-3191
HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 9:00-5:00
THURSDAY & FRIDAY OPEN LATE BY APPOINTMENT
SATURDAY 9:30-4:00

The name says it all, or almost all. There is also the convenient location on the main floor of the Centennial Building, so that those who live or work downtown do not have to make a special trip to have their hair done. Mane Stop caters to both men and women, and specializes in precision hair cutting, custom perming and body waving. Colouring, streaking and braiding are also available, as is a wide assortment of Redken, KMS, and Mahdeen products to keep your hair looking its best between visits. Proprietor Betty Fairhurst likes her vocation, and she and her staff genuinely enjoy the people they attend to. They want to maintain a rapport with them and see them come back again and again. An unpretentious and relaxed salon is topped off with reasonable prices and friendly service.

Estetic Hair

12324 - 104 AVENUE
482-1454, 482-5123

HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 9:00-9:00
SATURDAY 9:00-6:00

Estetic Hair is, as the name in Italian suggests, a high fashion hair styling salon for men and women. Owner Marie MacLellan and her eight trained assistants have their own inimitable way of braiding, cutting and highlighting. The salon offers hair products by KMS, Nucleic A., Mahdeen, and Don Sullivan. Marie McLellan brings many years of training and experience to her craft. She studied for three years under the European Hair Stylist Ilona Klar, and went on to advanced training with Dwight Miller from Chicago. For the past four years she has been an instructress of advanced classes herself. The Estetic Hair salon offers free consultations and cancellation privileges.

HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 9:30-5:30
THURSDAY 'TIL 9:00

Children learn by playing: as they experiment, so expands their understanding of their environment. Play and Learn, recently moved to its new 99 Street location, is a place to shop for parents, teachers and other professionals involved with children. Their products are teaching aids and play materials, chosen to meet the needs of children and the high standards of parents and teachers. John Kuby, a former grade 1 and 2 teacher, is the owner of this helpful and comprehensive store. The selection of children's records is the best in the city. The book section includes fiction and non-fiction, idea and work books, and teaching aids. As a special service Play and Learn will completely outfit a preschool program with tables, chairs, storage units, outdoor play equipment and art supplies. For institutions they offer a mail order catalogue through their Saskatoon warehouse.

Edmonton youngsters are fortunate to have been served for over three decades by a store committed to outfitting children from head to toe with quality name merchandise. For some families, shopping at Jack & Jill has become a tradition. Tots who crossed the store's threshold when it first opened in 1948 have grown into fashionable mothers who now outfit their own youngsters at Jack & Jill. The Tougas brothers, who own and manage the store, carry on the family tradition too . . . their father established the business 33 years ago. The store carries a full range of children's clothing and shoes up to age 10. Pint-size dresses, blouses, coats, jeans, knitwear or bonnets, all by leading manufacturers, can be found in a variety of sizes and styles. Jack & Jill is the only store in Alberta which carries children's shoes exclusively, and it is the largest Savage and Buster Brown dealer. The store keeps records of all shoe fittings and mails out regular reminder cards when it's time to have sizes checked. Jack & Jill would rather miss a sale than misfit your child. Free balloons are an enticement to keep toddlers still for fittings.

Jean's Doll House

11024 - 127 STREET
EDMONTON, ALBERTA T5M 0T2
454-2934

HOURS: TUESDAY-SATURDAY 10:30-5:30

Remember that best friend of all? The doll you rag-tagged along by one foot? The golden playroom princess. Chances are you'll find that doll again in Jean's Doll House. Far from an ordinary toy store, this place offers the most exquisite selection of dolls you're ever likely to see. Owners Jim and Jean Watt surround themselves with dolls not usually found in larger stores. Potential playmates include Peggy Nesbit dolls, Anne Parker dolls, Ginny dolls, puppets, rag dolls, Gerber baby dolls, teddy bears, and Effanbee dolls. Of course wardrobes, houses, furniture and accessories are available too. Over in one corner you'll find a delicate display of antique dolls. In the back is a small doll hospital for minor emergencies. The shop will purchase antique and just plain worn out dolls for collections, re-sale or repair parts. Although dolls take first place here, they do stock other toys such as Brio toys, miniatures, cards, puzzles and books. Special services include lay-a-way plans, mail order to just about anywhere and tours for children's groups by prior arrangement. Look for the store's annual Doll Show and Sale in the Fall. It's a doll-ightful place to meet a friend.

Moms and Little Uns Boutique

10902 - 84 AVENUE
439-0142
HOURS: TUESDAY-FRIDAY 10:00-5:30
SATURDAY 10:00-5:00

This sunny, butter-coloured shop is filled with beautiful "good as new" things for the child in your life. Some of the finds awaiting you include maternity wear, baby furniture, children's wear from infant to size 10, toys and books. Owners Linda Bibby and Joan Froese carefully inspect each item before it is put on display. Everything must be in excellent condition and all clothing washed and ironed. Along with the selection of good quality items comes the advantage of prices that are about half the normal new retail cost. Other special things for baby include short-term rental of cribs, highchairs and playpens. As the exclusive agent for the Edmonton Jacettes "Buckle Up Babe" program, the shop also rents infant car seats. Your items are welcome and are sold on consignment.

Levine Shoes

14212 - 96 AVENUE
EDMONTON T5N 0C3
452-0435

HOURS: TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY, FRIDAY, SATURDAY 9:30-5:30
THURSDAY 9:30-8:30

OPEN LAST 4 MONDAYS IN AUGUST TO ACCOMMODATE BACK-TO-SCHOOL SHOPPERS

There was an old woman who lived in a shoe, had so many children . . . and she still didn't know as much about children's shoes as they do here. Levine Shoes has been serving tots' shoe needs since 1955. Little ones are offered a big selection of sizes and widths from such names as Buster Brown, Savage, Bonnie Stuart and Clarks. Because a child's shoe needs are often bigger than he or she is, a growth file is kept on each small customer. The store takes great care to fit a child's shoes properly. The file also allows for mail order if required. For little feet that need a little help, the store offers expert orthopedic fittings from prescription. Orthopedic shoes are carried in sizes 00-N (infant) to 4-5/E (youth). For feet with somewhat larger demands, Levine's offers a selection of adult-sized shoes, including comfort fashion shoes for women by such names as Romika from Germany. As well, quality runners and jogging shoes are available for the whole family. Just like the old woman, children spend a lot of time in their shoes . . . running, jumping, biking, climbing. Levine Shoes can make sure the shoe is fit enough to take it.

423-9947

HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY
6:00 A.M. - 12 MIDNIGHT
SATURDAY 8:00-10:00
SUNDAY 10:00-9:00

This is no ordinary club — you can tell that the minute you walk through the door. On the right, five courts are devoted entirely to squash, the first exclusive squash facility in Edmonton. But when you notice the art gallery section where local artists are invited to display their works, and the spacious, eye-pleasing reception area and pro shop, you know this club was designed for elegant leisure. Upstairs, the men's area offers steam, sauna and whirlpools to loosen up after a vigorous workout on the court. There's also an exercise room and outdoor track. Women can pamper themselves in the only habitat environmental closure in Edmonton where you have sun, steam, rain or warm wind at the touch of a dial. Afterwards, try the computer games or a leisurely meal in the fully-licensed deli area or outdoor garden. For real privacy, go into the billiard/conference room, close the door, pull down the blinds and you could be anywhere. It's a total stress-relieving environment. HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY
6:30 A.M. - 12 MIDNIGHT
SATURDAY 7:30-9:00 P.M.
SUNDAY 9:00-9:00

Your body is the one machine that improves with use! Since getting it moving is sometimes difficult, an atmosphere that stimulates both mental and physical energy is important. The Harley Court Club does both. Designed with the adult in mind this exclusive club caters primarily to the professional. Tensions are relieved and pressure removed through welcome daily work outs on the racquetball and squash courts. Handball is enjoyed too, and a specially constructed running track offers club members the opportunity to jog all year in a pleasant air-conditioned environment. Exercise follow-ups include use of the whirlpool, sauna, steam and sun room. There are separate but equal facilities for men and women. The best follow-up though is the wind down, with good conversation, soft music, fine wine and great food . . . all the incentive you need to become a privileged member of the Harley Court Club.

SATURDAY, SUNDAY, HOLIDAYS
9:00-9:00

Racquetball appeals to people in growing numbers because it's a game that can be enjoyed by anybody, regardless of age or athletic ability; a game in which skill is quickly acquired. This fascinating sport, along with handball, exercise equipment for both isotonic and isokinetic exercises, counselling and co-ordination by a phsycial education specialist are being offered by the Quesnell Club. Named for its location at the north end of the Quesnell Freeway, this handsomely-designed health club features six championship racquetball/handball courts, with three bookings a week available to members and a fully-stocked racquet sports supply shop. There's a nursery on the premises to take care of the kids while parents get that good work out, a players' fully-licensed lounge, lessons for novices, spacious and well-appointed locker rooms. You can get health snacks and drinks, use the closed-circuit video system for viewing and training, or relax in a steam bath or whirlpool to take the kinks out of your muscles.

484-1131
HOURS: MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY, SATURDAY 10:00-5:30
THURSDAY & FRIDAY 'TIL 9:00

Whether you prefer a sprint, a marathon, or a short jog around the park, if you're into running The Running Racquet is for you. It's a mini-mecca for Edmonton's sports minded. Specializing in clothing and equipment for runners and lovers of racquet sports the store is often filled with budding athletes. The talk usually turns to shop, and bits of advice are often heard on the best trails to jog or the best courts to play. Many entry forms and much race information can be picked up too. Above all The Running Racquet takes pride in a selection of functional but attractive sporting clothes and shoes. Shorts, tops, warm-ups and rain suits from all the big names are featured. The store stocks 40 different types of running shoes and 37 kinds of court shoes! Special services include racquet stringing and racquet repairs. Uniforms can be ordered for most team sports. You can't beat the location either. The Running Racquet is directly above a racquetball and fitness club. How's that for a sporting proposition? Credit: Visa. MasterCard.

Spinning Wheels Roller Rink

11937 - 145 STREET
454-4762

Want to know what makes the world go around? The same thing that turned it on its ear when your parents were young. Yes, rollerskating is a sport whose time has come around again. And here, on Alberta's largest skating surface, everyone is turning up to try it. Rollerskating can be an excellent form of exercise, a demanding sport, or a relaxing pastime for all ages. As a family owned and operated skating facility, Spinning Wheels has gone that extra distance to create an atmosphere that every family member can enjoy. The rink offers fantastic light and sound facilities, air conditioning, and a concession and games area. Special times are reserved for teens, families, adults and open skates. Adult supervision is always provided. Special bookings are taken for birthday and private parties. And special rates are available for school, youth and church groups. "Ready to roll" lessons are offered including competitive and figure rollerskating. And to get you going, the rink offers first quality equipment, accessories and service at competitive prices.

Klondike Sporting Goods

9440 - 149 STREET
484-3307
HOURS: MONDAY, TUESDAY, SATURDAY 9:00-6:00
WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, FRIDAY 9:00-9:00

During the summer, Klondike Sporting Goods is a large-volume dealer in bicycles, stocking many of the world's finest models for Edmonton's large and growing pedal-pushing population. But during the winter, Klondike Sports shows what it's really all about — and that's hockey! Every member of the staff at Klondike either coaches, referees or otherwise participates in Canada's national sport. Klondike supplies more than 100 teams in the Edmonton area with everything they need to play the game and even sponsors three hockey teams of its own. Klondike carries a dozen major brands of hockey sticks and 5 major brands of skates, including CCM, Daust, Lange, Cooper, Jofa and Roos. Klondike also operates the city's best and speediest skate-sharpening service. At the height of the season, they often sharpen 600 to 700 pairs of skates per week. They guarantee the fit of all skates, and the Klondike staff of hockey specialists can make sure that you take to the ice with exactly the right equipment to suit your playing style. Credit: Visa. Eddie Bauer

428-7044
HOURS: MONDAY, TUESDAY, SATURDAY 9:30-5:30
WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, FRIDAY 'TIL 9:00

If you've ever been warm when you should've been cold, chances are it was due to Eddie Bauer. Eddie Bauer designed America's first quilted goose down garment back in 1936, and outdoor enthusiasts have been thanking him ever since. Today, the name Eddie Bauer is internationally known as the manufacturer, retailer, and mail order firm for an exclusive line of goose down items including jackets, parkas, coats, sleeping bags, mitts, caps, comforters and pillows. But that's not all. Eddie Bauer can show you many more ways to enhance your enjoyment of the great outdoors. Since 1977, the store has been offering Edmontonians over 1,200 quality items, from outdoor sports equipment to camping, hiking and other recreational equipment. Since Eddie Bauer first opened its doors in Seattle 60 years ago, every item has been offered with a solid guarantee. Your satisfaction is unconditionally guaranteed or your money is refunded. A visit to the store in the Continental Bank Building is not to be missed, but you should have a copy of the world famous mail order catalogue anyway. Eddie Bauer also offers, from time to time, outdoor clinics and demonstrations right in the store. And if you're ever on the road to Banff and find you've forgotten a few things, don't worry. There's an Eddie Bauer in Calgary too.

Campers Village

10220 - 103 AVENUE
426-1690
HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY9:00-5:30
THURSDAY & FRIDAY 'TIL 9:00

You may think it odd to find wildnerness adventurers smack dab in the city core — but they're there, lots of them. They're outfitting themselves from stem to stern at Campers Village, one of the largest camping stores in Canada. Campers Village is the retail division of a parent company, over 60 years old. The company manufactures up to 50 per cent of the store's stock including Norseman sleeping bags, tarps, boat covers, clothing and backpacking bags. Another division of the same company repairs bags and tents. Campers Village stocks over 50 styles of tents, approximately 70 models of sleeping bags, 100 different packs, a complete fishing department, canoes and more. They are also the only people in the country who supply everything for people who want to do it themselves — canvas, fabrics, webbing, buckles and snaps. Dependability and a wide selection have built them a nation-wide clientele. They ship orders throughout Canada and the Northwest Territories. Their parkas and cold weather equipment are much admired by people who depend on it for survival. Brand name products, along with a knowledgeable staff and reasonable prices make Campers Village a must for the outdoor enthusiast.

Fresh Air Experience

8537 - 109 STREET
432-0048

HOURS: MONDAY, TUESDAY, SATURDAY 9:00-5:30
WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, FRIDAY 'TIL 9:00

For the outdoor enthusiast — cross-country skier, jogger, backpacker, climber or canoeist — Fresh Air Experience is the place to gear up. They specialize in quality equipment for both the weekender and the full-time adventurer. They're best known for their cross-country skis and equipment. In the winter they provide ski rentals and instruction for those who are new to the sport. They also offer a clinic on wax technique every Saturday, snow permitting. They carry a full line of Northface tents, packs, sleeping bags and clothing. Then there's all those intriguing little accessories — how about a mini-suitcase for packing eggs, so you can get cracking at breakfast in the back country? The paddler will find equipment from Grumman, Scott and Woodstream, canoes for everything from white water adventures, upstream journeys or quiet turns around the lake. An annual canoe clinic is held every spring at the end of April.

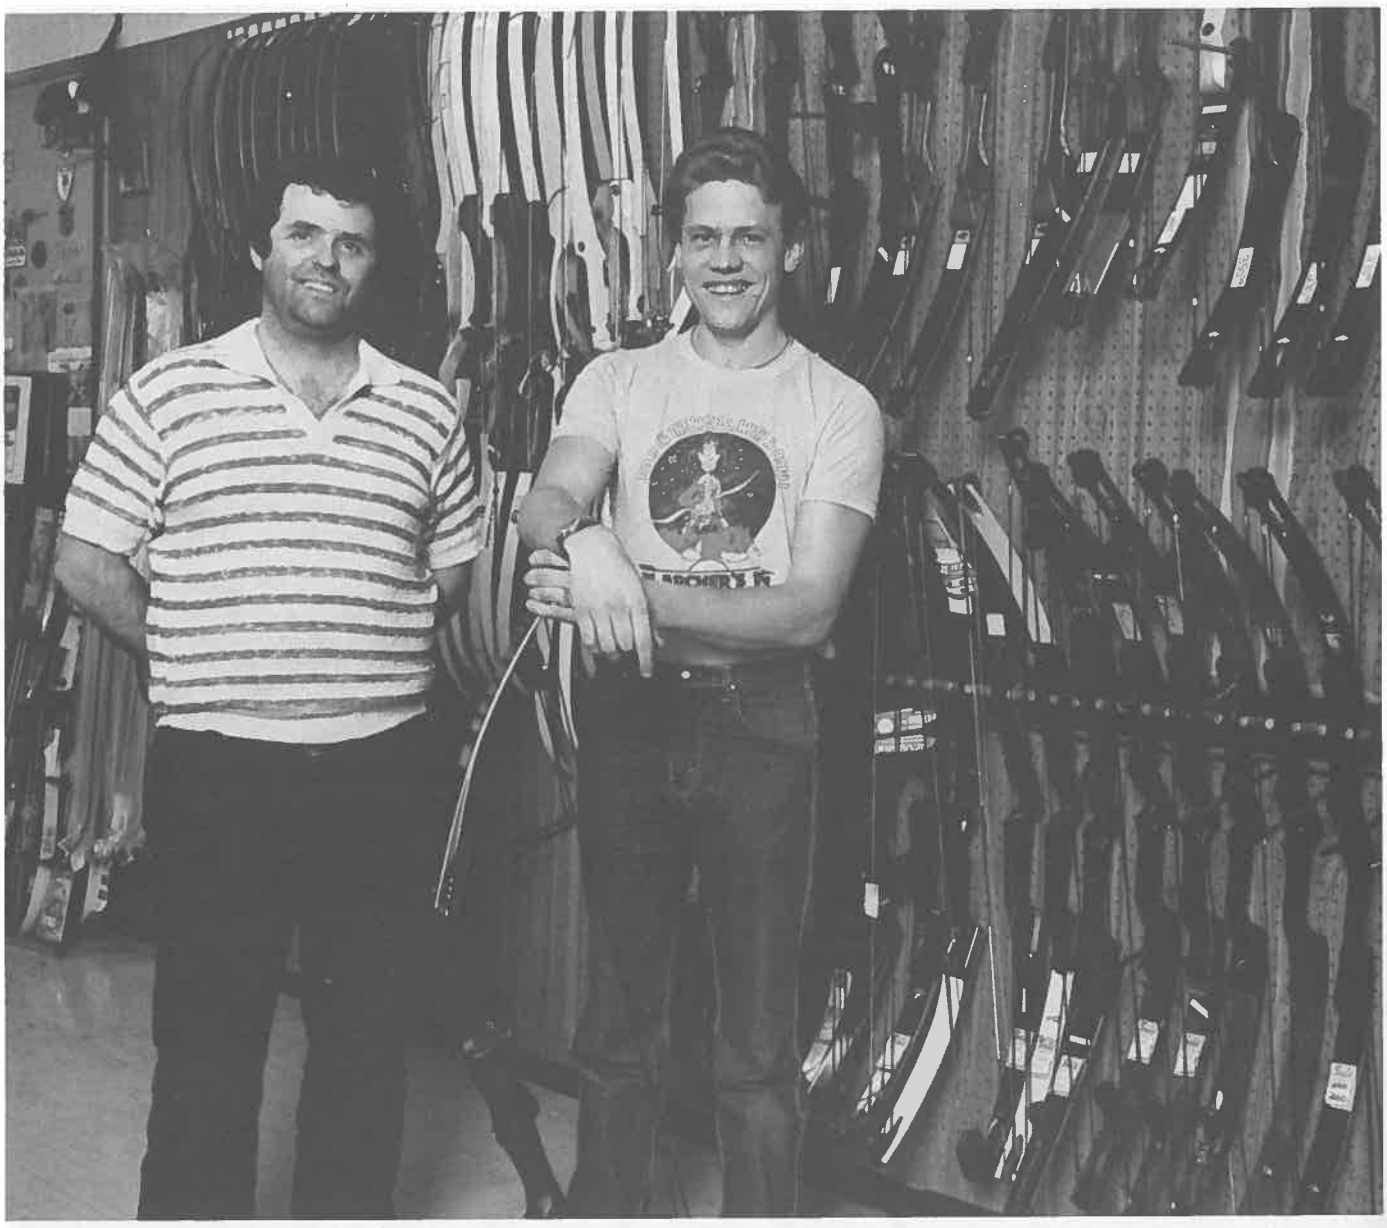
Alberta Bound

14737 - 123 AVENUE
454-9686

HOURS: MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY, FRIDAY 9:30-6:00
THURSDAY 'TIL 9:00
SATURDAY 10:00-6:00

The days of the birch bark canoe are back! Alberta Bound has turned canoe building into an art form. In addition to the authentic birch bark model, they build over 20 other different designs. If you have a hankering to build your own, kits are available for canoes, kayaks and sail boats. Alberta Bound also teaches 85 wilderness-related courses and provides a retail outlet for quality back-packing, mountain climbing and camping equipment. You can browse through a large selection of books and magazines on the great outdoors or sign up for one of more than 100 different wilderness excursions. Trips for the family or executives are arranged with or without a guide. If you opt to take along a professional, he will document your entire trip through photographs as well as offering instruction and canoeing tips and skills. If you find yourself up a creek this summer, be sure your paddles as well as the rest of your equipment are from Alberta Bound.



The Archer's Den

10653 - 116 STREET
420-1006
HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 9:30-9:00
SATURDAY 9:30-6:00

You sight your target. Swiftly you nock an arrow and draw back. From behind you comes a sound. It's the unmistakable rustle of a . . . sales clerk! It's a familiar scene when you hunt for archery equipment at the Archer's Den. Here you can try a bow before you buy. The professional indoor shooting lanes are one of a kind in town. Ryk Visscher and Duane Hicks offer a complete line of equipment for beginner to expert. And, when you buy a new bow, free lessons are available if required. The shop specializes in compound bows by Precision, Martin and Browning but they also handle bows by Bear, Jennings, Pearson and many Canadian brands. Other bows available include Howard Hill long bows and a variety of recurves such as the Damon-Howatt hunting recurve. Arrows are made right in the store and custom orders are welcome. Catalogue orders are more than welcome and they will mail your purchase anywhere in Canada at no shipping charge. The store is also the official scoring station for the Alberta Trophy Deer Record Book . . . just one more way the store aims to keep you in front of the hunt.

Derk's Skates and Shoe Repair

7725 - 85 STREET
465-2864
HOURS:
TUESDAY-SATURDAY
8:30 - 12:00 NOON,
1:00-5:30

For 20 years Ivan Derk has been hand crafting ice skates in Edmonton. Now joined by his son Gordon, Mr. Derk continues to tailor figure and hockey skates individually for the demanding needs of Canadian skaters. Once you have chosen the blade for your skates, Derk's constructs a made-to-measure boot. Figure skating has particularly exacting requirements, and Mr. Derk considers this his specialty. Derk's carries leg warmers, sheepskin boot covers, dresses and tights, scribes, and polish to completely outfit the competitive skater. They also repair and rebuild skates, as well as all quality leather shoes. In fact, Mr. Derk is a cobbler and hand makes golf and orthopaedic shoes. He even made a briefcase for one customer. Actually, Mr. Derk seems willing to create almost anything as long as it requires leather and craftsmanship.

Skier's Sportshop

8605 - 109 STREET
433-7227
12730 - 82 STREET
478-5315
HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 9:00-5:30
THURSDAY & FRIDAY 'TIL 9:00

Look for the only ski chalet on 109th Street. It's Skier's Sportshop, the skier's home away from the slopes. The store's outside is only a hint of what lies beyond. Inside George and Kelly McAvoy's shop you'll find the finest ski equipment, clothing and accessories for every level of skier. Brand names in skis include Rossignol, Dynastar, K2 and Head. Clothing lines include Ditrani and Roffe. Because this is the most ski-knowledgeable shop in town, the service department is more than qualified to handle any ski or binding problem. If winter leaves you cold, they're hot on summer here too. Seasonal stock includes everything for hiking and camping: tents, sleeping bags, lawn chairs, clothing and backpacks. They're also into racquets with top name tennis, racquetball and badminton supplies.

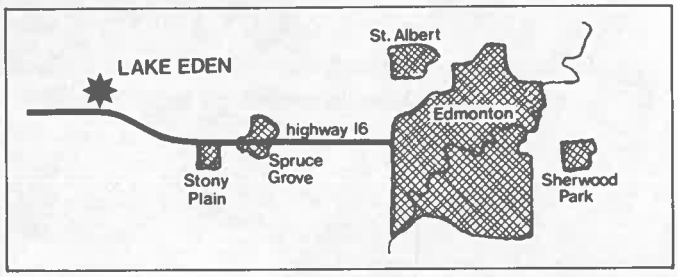
Lake Eden

40 KILOMETRES WEST OF EDMONTON ON HIGHWAY 16
963-3411
HOURS: WINTER:
MONDAY-SATURDAY 9:00 A.M. - 1:00 A.M.
SUNDAY 9:00 A.M. - 10:00 P.M.
SUMMER:
WEDNESDAY-SATURDAY 5:00-10:00
SUNDAY 11:00-3:00 & 5:00-9:00



Lake Eden is a year-round, stones-throw-from-the-city, fun resort. It gives the appearance of a forgotten Bavarian village neatly tucked into a picture postcard setting. A placid lake surrounded by cabins offers recreational swimming and enough picnic area to keep the entire family occupied. But it's during the long winter months that activities really start jumping at Lake Eden . . . skiers leaping off moguls, practicing their techniques and turns on Lake Eden's many runs. The Bunny Hill provides the novice with needed confidence while the more challenging slopes keep the experienced skiers happy too. Cross-country ski trails stretch around the now frozen lake and disappear through a wonderland of frosty trees. There's a place for the Apres skiers too. Inside the lodge, it's warm and friendly. Have a cup of hot chocolate in front of the fireplace, or sip a brandy in front of the picture window. Lake Eden also enjoys a reputation for fine dinners and lively dance bands. All the more reason to go back again and again.

Located on the East Arm of Great Slave Lake, Jerry Bricker's Frontier Fishing Lodge stands as a beckoning retreat for today's adventurer. From mid-June to mid-September, 24 guests can be catered to at any one time, meaning that for 24 fishermen all is right with the world! The only lodge of its kind in this area, Frontier Fishing Lodge is within easy boating access of five bodies of water! Great Slave Lake, Stark Lake, Stark River, Snowdrift River and Murky Lake are home to the nation's spunkiest game fish. Each day northern pike, lake trout and Arctic grayling rise easily, promising a challenging battle and a well-earned victory. Jerry Bricker's Frontier Fishing Lodge is a short plane ride from Edmonton to Yellowknife, followed by an additional 115 miles to the lodge itself. As the season is short, make your reservations early for one of the most memorable outdoor adventures ever.

At last, a well deserved long weekend is in sight. You want to escape, not far away, just far enough for a refreshing change. You choose Calgary as your destination, a city just south that's home to old friends and good memories. But the long drive in heavy traffic isn't very appealing. Should you take a crowded air bus out of an inconveniently situated terminal? Hardly worth the trouble. The best bet is the Red Arrow Express! The Red Arrow Express provides luxury motor coach travel to Calgary, Fort McMurray and Red Deer. The centrally located CN tower serves as the Red Arrow's main terminal point. Taking the Red Arrow is exciting in a relaxing sort of way. How long has it been since you travelled in a vehicle with plush carpeting and captain seats? The self-serve kitchenette and clean washroom make for pleasant travelling conditions, and the four channel stereo with earphones adds to the sheer luxury of it all. With its convenient, comfortable and quick service, the Red Arrow Express will deliver you to your destination, happy and relaxed. All aboard! Credit: Visa. MasterCard. American Express.

In 1931, when Peter Lawson opened his Calgary travel agency, people adored ships, doted on trains and thought planes were for dusting crops. Travel has taken a lot of new directions since then, and P. Lawson Travel has been there to map out the best route. As one of the first travel agencies in Edmonton, P. Lawson has established a reputation for covering new ground in the most efficient way possible. The staff are experienced travellers so they really can show you the best way to go, see and stay. Three fully automated offices serve the city, the main one in Principal Plaza. All offer complete travel consulting, daily ticket delivery, and group and incentive travel packages.

HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 8:30-5:00

Located at the crossroads of Edmonton at 101 Street and Jasper Avenue, Powell Travel has been serving Edmontonians for nearly a quarter of a century. Manager Jean Gerow, who has been with Powell for 22 years, remembers when people going overseas favoured steamships. Then, automatic ticket printers or computer service for instant confirmation of flight, hotel and car arrangements sounded like science fiction. Now, such services are routine at Powell, together with computerized accounting for month end statements. Powell Travel specializes in both business and pleasure travel. The individual is well taken care of by a staff of eight qualified and well-travelled consultants supervised by assistant manager Pat Pick. A longtime member of several professional associations, including Air Canada's Million Dollar Club, Powell Travel represents all major tour companies. They will arrange your air or sea trip to anywhere in the world, including the upcoming Commonwealth Games in Brisbane, Australia. Credit: Visa. MasterCard. American Express. Those faraway places beckoning to you could be as exotic as a street bazaar in Cairo, or as traditional as a small village still thriving on the Appian Way. Your travel wishes may be a winter holiday in Hawaii or a three-day escape to Las Vegas. No matter, the basic problem still remains — what is the most dependable way of getting from point A to point B? Enter Marlin Travel. One of the largest travel retailers in Western Canada, Marlin Travel is able to accommodate clients from city to city. This is particularly convenient for the commercial client who needs speedy changes in reservations and tickets. Marlin caters to almost every aspect of travel and is extremely careful to select only the better products offered. Complete automation within the Marlin offices means that clients can be looked after more quickly and efficiently. So what are you waiting for? It's time to book a trip. Before you can focus the lens of your camera you can be on your way to an exotic holiday or a get-away-from-it-all long weekend through Marlin Travel.

HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 9:00-5:30
SATURDAY 9:30-4:30

What a good idea? Buy your ticket to the tropics and a swimsuit at the same place. Together, The Travel Boutique along with Gowing Professional Travel will arrange your itinerary and help select all the gear appropriate to your destination.
The Travel Boutique carries an alluring bevy of high quality bathing suits and sportswear, and Edmonton's largest assortment of coordinated cover-ups, shorts, tops, pants, rompers, hats and golf shirts for men and women. There are many other travel specialty goods like converters and adapters, cosmetic and lingerie bags, jewellery rolls and raincoats. Marlene Gowing looks after the outfitting while her husband Blain makes sure your holiday is well arranged. He can tailor a trip just for you. If you reserve through the travel agency, you are entitled to a discount at the boutique. If you happened to pass this shop during Christmas 1980, you surely remember seeing two young models clad in exotic swimwear from The Travel Boutique waving to motorists . . . an eye-opener for one of the coldest days of the year. A unique concept with a unique execution.

Polar Park

14 MILES EAST OF EDMONTON ON HIGHWAY 14
922-3401
HOURS: SEVEN DAYS A WEEK
8:00 A.M. TO DUSK

This animal park, the only one of its kind in the world, is dedicated to the preservation of cold climate species from all over the globe. And they are there for you to view, in a completely natural setting, spread over 1,500 acres of land just one half hour from the city. Over one hundred species, some 1,500 animals including the rare and nearly extinct, roam just on the other side of the fence. Snow leopards, lesser pandas, muskoxen, Siberian lynx, polar and grizzly bears, bactrian camels, and Arctic wolves are only a few of the inhabitants. Some, like the long-haired leopard, have never been displayed before in the western world. To add to your enjoyment of nature as you go, there are excellent cross-country ski trails, snowshoe trails and group tour sleigh rides through the park. Summer activities at the park can include hiking, picnics, camel rides for the children, hay rides, train rides and barbeques. Year round, adventurers can relax over a hot or cold meal at the Cougar's Lair Chalet. Polar Park is the creation of Dr. Al Oeming, the pioneer of game farms and animal parks in Canada. Here, he has once again served the purpose of conservation and provided a unique opportunity to appreciate the world around us and its inhabitants.

City of Edmonton Parks and Recreation

428-3559

Take time to visit some of the many facilities operated by Edmonton's Parks and Recreation Department. Enjoy living history at Fort Edmonton or the science of astronomy at Queen Elizabeth Planetarium. Sports buffs can get a good workout at Commonwealth Stadium or the Kinsmen Sports Centre, while nature lovers can enjoy the flora and fauna found at the Muttart Conservatory, John Janzen Nature Centre and Storyland Valley Zoo. For just relaxing, City parks are located throughout Edmonton and the river valley.

Devonian Botanic Garden
University of Alberta

5 KILOMETRES NORTH OF DEVON ON HIGHWAY 60
987-3054
HOURS: MAY 1ST TO SEPTEMBER 30TH
MONDAY-FRIDAY 10:30-4:30
SATURDAY, SUNDAY & PUBLIC HOLIDAYS 12:00 NOON - 6:00

The prehistoric past of this province is evident throughout the University of Alberta's beautiful Devonian Botanic Garden, 23 kilometres southwest of Edmonton. The area is dominated by wind-formed sand dunes, created some 12,000 years ago on the shores of pre-glacial Lake Edmonton.

Between the dunes are accumulations of peat, and this finest of all natural soils has been used to cultivate as diverse a selection of botanical specimens as you'll see anywhere in western Canada. Displays include an Alpine garden, a grouping of plants native to Alberta, a herb garden, terraces sporting spring and summer-blooming perennials, a desert garden, peony collection, rose gardens, an iris dell, some of the plants used by Alberta native peoples, a dryland and wetland ecological reserve, a primulia garden, a betuletum displaying birch trees from all over the province, and a prairie grassland where croci bloom in spring. These are linked by the Sandy Dyde Nature Trail, fully posted with information so you can guide yourself through the 190-acre garden complex. A must for students of plant life, the Devonian Garden is also a restful spot for non-botanists who simply enjoy the beauty and peace found in a garden.

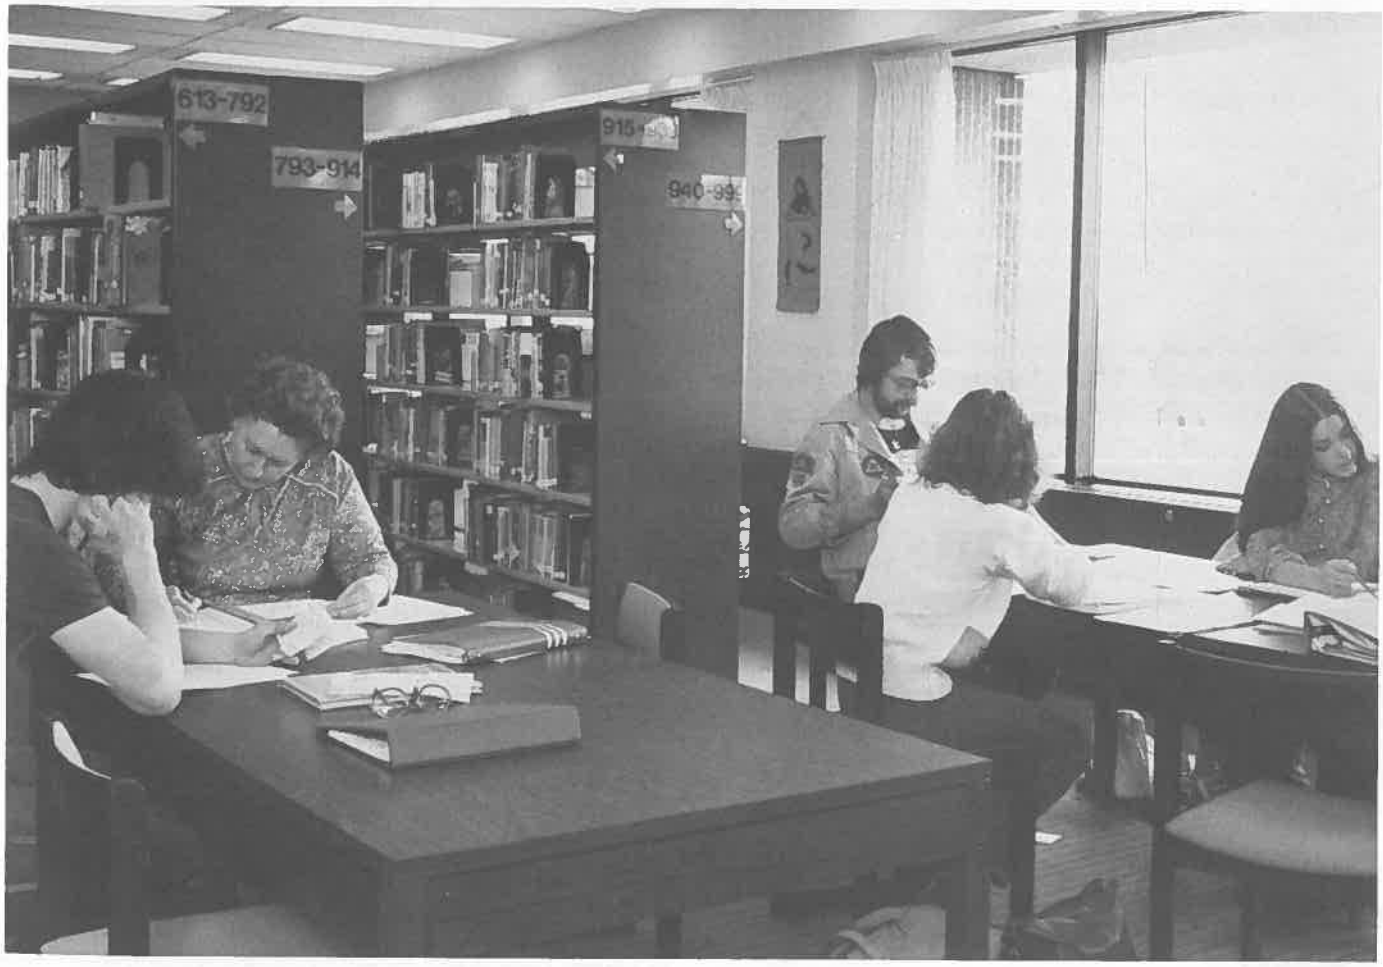
YWCA

10305 - 100 AVENUE
423-9922
HOURS: SEVEN DAYS A WEEK
6:30 A.M. - 11:30 P.M.

During 130 years, the YWCA has been in continuous service to the community, the nation and the world . . . offering everyone the opportunity for total fitness and personal growth. The YWCA in Edmonton has it all: aerobics, racquetball, swimming, weight training, jogging and skiing. For women only, there is a whirlpool, steam room, sauna, sun tan room, exercise equipment and fitness testing. The YWCA Residence accommodates 70 women on a permanent basis and 30 overnight or short term guests. Supportive counselling, information and referral is available to women experiencing stressful change. The cafeteria is open to the public and prepares wholesome food for anyone who'd like to eat there. Childcare is available for the program participant, the volunteers and the public on a casual, drop-in basis. Fees are charged by the hour and the facility can accommodate 120 children from newborn to 6 years old, open Monday to Saturday. Camp YoWoChAs, the new Outdoor Recreation & Education Centre located on Lake Wabamun, offers modern accommodation for 70. Other services at the YWCA include individual attention to the recreational needs of handicapped children and adults, a Family Relief Program enabling those in charge of a disabled person to have a refreshing break, a Widows' Centre supporting those who are suffering loss of a loved one through bereavement or divorce, recreation and fitness activities for senior citizens, an Employee Fitness program offered on a contract basis, and courses on Life Skills & Leadership Development. In 1980, the volunteers of the YWCA gave, in time, effort and money, the equivalent of a $221,000 donation. For details about any of these services, call the YWCA office.

Alberta Vocational Centre

10215 - 108 STREET
EDMONTON T5J 1L6
427-5444
HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 8:15-4:30



The role of the four Alberta Vocational Centres in the province is to provide opportunities for adults whose education has been interrupted, who need specific skills that will lead to a rewarding career. Run by the Department of Advanced Education and Manpower, the centres have helped thousands of adults over the past 35 years. The AVC in Edmonton can take more than 1,200 students at any one time in its short, intensive programs. Academic Upgrading gives basic education up to Grade 12. Then there are specialized courses such as business education, English as a second language, and nursing assistant's education. There's a variety of short skill training courses like the building services worker, mixology and printing. The Centre also offers a full range of student support services — like in-house day-care, adult learning disabilities program and work placement office to help graduates move successfully from training to employment.

This college offers practical education with a definite purpose. Named after a former Alberta Lieutenant Governor, Grant MacEwan Community College reaches Edmontonians from three campuses — Jasper Place, Cromdale and Mill Woods. Thirty-three diploma and 18 certificate programs offer paraprofessional training in communications, performing and design art, business, and social, community and health services. You can study full time or part time through fall, winter and spring trimesters. Evening courses, seminars, special projects, workshops and conferences, are organized each trimester. On 60 acres beside the North Saskatchewan River, the college's Equine Centre offers riding and horse care courses, weekend clinics and facilities for students to work with and around horses. For young and old, the disabled, the discouraged, and the enthusiastic, Grant MacEwan Community College challenges, broadens and educates. It offers courses to refresh old skills or learn new ones. For program and registration information call the Registrar's Office — 483-2394.

Concordia College

7128 ADA BOULEVARD
OFFICE: 479-8481

HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY 8:30-4:30

Established in 1921, Concordia College has grown with Alberta. As one of several colleges affiliated with the University of Alberta, Concordia offers 2 years of courses in Arts, Sciences and Education, which are the same in content as those at the University and are directly transferable to the University. Also, pre-professional and restricted enrollment programs are offered in Business Administration and Commerce, Household Economics, Agriculture, Pharmacy, Forestry, and several other fields. A high school matriculation program is also available. In a relaxed setting at its campus overlooking the scenic North Saskatchewan River in the east end of the city, Concordia fosters personalized relationships based on Christian love and caring for one another. "The context is Christian, the purpose is people," is the College's motto. This philosophy is sustained by a faculty enthusiastic about creating a vibrant Christian community. The program seeks to enrich every facet of life and offers opportunities in music, drama and athletics, as well as a scope for Christian growth.

The Northern Alberta Institute of Technology

11762 - 106 STREET
EDMONTON, ALBERTA T5G 2R1
427-9100

The Northern Alberta Institute of Technology, known as NAIT, is the largest polytechnical institute in Canada. This diverse institute opened in 1962 and now offers post-secondary training in engineering technologies, medical science technologies, applied arts, business and commerce, service occupations and industrial/commercial trades to 5,500 full-time students enrolled in one-year certificate and two-year diploma programs. About 10,000 students were enrolled in the institute's 30 apprenticeship programs consisting of a combination of on-the-job and institutional training. Some of the programs include auto-diesel trades, food service trades, construction and electrical trades. Another 20,000 students are taking part-time continuing education courses ranging from career-oriented to general interest subjects. NAIT's main campus, spread over 45 acres near the Industrial Airport, is handy to the downtown area while three satellite campuses are spread out around the city. For a calendar of regular programs, write to the registrar. For a calendar of evening and special courses, write to the continuing education division.
